Mellon Admits Grave Problem Being Presented

Series of Conferences Begun in Effort to Clear Up Situation—Using Seals of Their Gov't on Booze.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Secretary Mellon began a series of conferences today in an effort to clear up the new ship liquor situation. Developing from the determination of several foreign shipping companies to bring liquor into American waters under the new customs seals of their government. Prior to these deliberations, the secretary declared there was no doubt but that the question of whether an agent of the American government dared to destroy a foreign government seal presented a grave problem.

He expressed the hope that we find out just what we can do immediately, informed that the British liner Berengaria, due in New York tomorrow or Saturday, was bringing a sealed store of liquor, the secretary was able to reply that the situation thus presented when it arose.

A SHOW-DOWN TOMORROW.

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 21.—The Cunard liner Berengaria, which sailed for New York last Saturday, carried sufficient alcoholic liquor for her return voyage under the new customs seals of her government. The White Star liner Olympic which sailed yesterday, it was learned today, a show-down over the question whether British ships can carry the liquor from Dry America to Wet England, therefore becomes likely to come sooner than had been expected. The first challenge will probably be thrown down tomorrow when the Berengaria is due to pass the Statue of Liberty.

Trap For Mice; Mule Is Victim

A man named Anderson who lives on Floyd street was the victim of his own trap Sunday when he lost a fine mule to a trap set for mice. The mule, which had been placed round on rats poisoning, Anderson claims he was bothered with rodents and decided to kill out a few, but why he soaked chicken feed in the poison and spread it out on his garden instead of in the house for the rats is not quite clear. It was intimated that lots of stray chickens had been scratching in Anderson's garden since he planted it. Nevertheless Anderson's fine mule strayed into the garden on Sunday, got some of the poisoned scratch and died within fifteen minutes. The animal was given a drink of water a few minutes after eating the poison and as it is an established fact, the water was deadly for it to drink.

Death Stalks Near Altar as Flemish Couple Wed

GOETTINGEN, June 21.—The "shadow of the gallows" fell across the marriage altar at an unique wedding which occurred here recently. The bride's father was sentenced to death and both bride and bridegroom were under similar sentences.

The groom had been condemned only to 20 years imprisonment. All four were fugitives from justice who had been captured by the Belgians because of certain Flemish tendencies and pro-Germanism.

Club to Snip Tresses of Maids Who Vamp

BREMERHAVEN, June 21.—Woe be to the German girl, Belgian or French, who is in the company of any man whose skin is racially colored.

The "Lower Weser Branch of the scissors Club" has been formed here for the purpose of snipping off the hair of any "fräulein" who associates with such foreigners, among who it includes natives of India, negroes, Chinese and Japanese. All tresses thus obtained are to be sold and proceeds devoted to Ruhr relief.

Plans Here For Improvement of City Water Works To Cost About $100,000

The superintendent of public utilities yesterday received full plans and specifications for the $100,000 improvement of the city water works, bids on which will be received and the contract awarded in time to permit the start on this important work during the fall. The improvement is being financed by council bonds, already provided for.

Frank Talbot who with other officials will be carefully over the plans and specifications will return them to the Schofield Engineering Company in New York at the earliest moment and bids will then be called for. No date has been set for the opening of these bids which will come before the public works committee.

The enlargement of the city's water works will provide adequate facilities for the city for many years to come. There will be a larger water supply, the filtration and the filtration process will be materially enlarged. In the engine house electric drive pumps will be installed and the general pumping capacity will be so increased as to obviate the necessity of pumping fourteen hours a day as is now the case. The present pumps driven by steam have a capacity for pumping three million gallons of pure water into the city reservoir each day. The larger electric driven pumps provided for under the improvement plans will have a five million gallon capacity for twenty-four hours, thus cutting down the pumping period to nine hours per diem.

The character of the water itself will not be changed in any way neither will the reservoir be added to. It is the filtration plant and pumping machinery which is being increased in capacity. Incidentally the installation of the electric pumps meets one of the suggested improvements which made in the last survey made of Danville by the National Board of Underwriters as to the fire risk. It was doubted, however, that this single improvement would result in any lowering of the city's fire insurance rate which is based on the risk of the town as a whole.

Million-Dollar Flood

Twelve hundred persons have been made homeless by the big Oklahoma City, Okla., flood. Forty houses were washed away. The monetary loss will exceed $1,000,000. This photo shows Robinson avenue, looking south.

Bond Decision Will Be Made By Judge

Question of Failure or Success Will Be Determined in First Instance When Judge Withers Files Report With Council.

The commissioners of election early this afternoon completed their canvass of the result in Tuesday's bond election.

In the school bond issue, the official report shows, 1256 votes were cast for the school bond issue and 270 were cast against it. Of the total voting for the school bond issue 612 were real estate owners and 643 were non-freeholders. Of the 270 opposed to the school bonds 189 were real estate owners and 81 non-freeholders. These figures compiled after a careful checking up are at variance in some particulars with the returns tabulated after the close of the polls Tuesday night. The total vote was 1526. The check-up on the sewer bond issue, the figures show, was the same.

The commissioners who canvassed the election returns were J. A. Alverson, P. L. Grady, John C. Friend, S. L. Patrick and J. L. Taylor.

In filing its report to the judge of the court the commissioners did not undertake to state what constituted a majority of the registered qualified owners of real estate in the city. They all subscribed, however, to a certificate setting forth that the number of real estate owners in the city as shown on lists published by the commissioner of the revenue and the city treasurer was 2187. Not all of the 2187 freeholders were qualified to vote and the majority of qualified voters therefore is not clear at this time.

No definite decision on the bond issue outcome will be made by Judge Withers. The Corporation court has been given a copy of the returns as compiled by the commissioners of election who this morning were canvassing the ballot with Otis Bradley, clerk of the Corporation court.

One of the figures have been drawn up they will be sent to the judge who will then certify to the city council the outcome. Whether it will be a decision declaring the bond issue to have failed or not, will be left to the court's construction of the city's charter, the verbiage of which is susceptible to different construction and on which there is a considerable difference of opinion.

Should the court hold that the issue failed, then it would be for the purpose of the issue who have indicated a determination to test the ruling to seek a writ of mandamus before the Supreme court this asking that a favorable decision as to the bond elections be permanently recorded. If, on the other hand, Judge Withers should hold that the election carried and so certify it to the council it would be for those who have opposed the bond issue to seek a writ of prohibition from the Supreme court. The Court of Appeals would not hear evidence. Briefs would be submitted since the question involved is one of construing a legal term. A favorable decision by the Court of Appeals, or should it hold that the bond issue carried, the sale of the bonds would not be interfered with for they would have the stamp of approval of the highest court in the state. Aggressive decisions would automatically increase the bonds from the market since the issue would not be authorized by law.

Efforts to reach A. C. Conway, chairman of the school board failed this afternoon. Enquiries made for him showed that he had come to Richmond and he will not be back before tonight. Whether he will resign from the school board is therefore not known though he declared yesterday that should his resignation be asked by either the school board or the council or the newspapers, he would yield.

Train Knocks Suicide's Body Hundred Yards

(By Chicago Tribune Service)

MISHAWAKA, Ind., June 21.—As New York Central fast passenger train No. 3 westbound due here at 6 a. m., today approached a crossing in the extreme west section of the city, the engineer saw a woman, Mrs. Charles May, aged 33, lay her head on the track and cover her head with her hands.

The engine was only a few yards from the crossing and was going 50 miles an hour and knocked the body a hundred yards. The body was badly mutilated. Mrs. May was highly religious and some time ago identified herself with the International Bible Students.

Last night she refused to go to bed having some trouble with her husband. She left the house during the night or sometime before midnight and walked at least two miles from her home to the place where she committed suicide. Mrs. May is survived by her husband and five small children.

Second Game With High Point Today

After capturing a thrilling game yesterday by an exciting ninth inning rally, Danville will again meet High Point at Stonehill Jackson park this afternoon for the second game of the series. The Tobaccoists will go into the game with a determination to strike its winning stride of last week, while on the other hand High Point will also put up a hard fight, for the game is a crucial one for the Pointers since Greensboro is now leading them for the first half honors by a close margin. Either Harris or Twombly will be sent in to do the mound work while Herndon's selection has not been learned. Another good crowd is expected.

Woman Kills and Is Now Blind

(By Chicago Tribune Service)

CHICAGO, June 21.—Cook county courts today accepted the sufficiency of divine punishment and freed a woman accused of murder.

Laura Johnson, 26, was led into court to face a charge of sticking a knife through the heart of William A. Branch on April 8, when it is alleged he attempted to attack her. Since her arrest on that date she has gone blind. "God has meted out a punishment to this woman greater than we could give to her. We suggest that the case be dismissed," was the suggestion by prosecuting attorneys when the case was called.

"Young lady," the court said, "you will never see to murder another man, God has seen to that. You are free."

The young woman was led to dark freedom by the bailiffs.

Steals Radiator and Hood Off Car

That there is a Ford assembling plant somewhere near Danville is evident from the report of the clever and bold thief last night of the radiator and hood from a new Ford Sedan, belonging to R. V. Carter, while the car stood at his home at Carter's Springs. To what use the stolen articles were put by the one who annexed them is not known but it is certain they disappeared between the hours of 11 last night and 4 this morning, and so silently that no one knows the exact hour. The thief left no trace by which he might be discovered.

WIFE DESERTED ARRESTED

Police Detective J. N. Campbell yesterday arrested a man who gave his name as C. L. Childress, and who is said to be wanted in Salisbury, where a warrant awaits him charging him with deserting his wife. Childress is said to be a painter.

CROP CONDITIONS IN OLD DOMINION

RICHMOND, June 21.—The warmer and more reasonable weather prevailing in the latter part of the week, with the generous rains that fell at the close of the week preceding, has been very favorable for all growing crops, and it revived pastures and improved the outlook for agriculture in all sections. Tobacco and sweet potato planting has been practically completed, and the condition of the crops, while not altogether satisfactory, is much improved. Harvest of wheat has begun in most sections of the State and oats are ripening and nearly ready for harvest. White potatoes have improved. A good stand of peanuts has been secured and the planks are making good growth.

The weatherman's week ending yesterday was hotter by 3-7 degrees than the week ending the same date last year. The average temperature for the week ending yesterday was a fraction over 91 degrees, while the average for the same week last year was a fraction less than 88 degrees. The highest point reached by the mercury in the week ending June 20, 1922, was 94 degrees, while 90 registered Tuesday is the highest so far this year. A comparison may be noted from the following table compiled from the official records of H. M. Watkins:

The E. H. Muller property, lying off West Main street, being surveyed, and will, within a few days, be staked off as to show the proposed plan of development.

Three more Sunday-school league games will be played here this week on tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Keen street will pay Mount Vernon and on Saturday a double-header will be staged. Moffett-Memorial and Keen street will engage in a contest at 3:30 o'clock and Christian and Stead-Memorial will play at 5:30 o'clock.

J. M. Seegar, Jr., and Dan Huger, of Charleston, S. C., his college mate of the Federal High School, are abroad for the Summer. They left last Thursday on the Frater liner "Asia" which will carry them on an interesting Mediterranean cruise this time. The report of the summer cruise will land in Spain and will after a visit to that country join the boat in the Mediterranean later returning through Italy, Switzerland and France to England where they will spend some time visiting relatives.

Reserve Bank Seeks Rehearing

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Counsel for the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va., presented to the Supreme court today a motion for leave to file a petition for a rehearing in the case brought by the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Monroe, N. C., and others in which the court on June 19th sustained the validity of the state law under which state banks were authorized to charge a commission for their services in the collection of checks drawn on them. The effect of the motion will be to prevent the issuance of a mandate by the court putting into operation its decision until after it reconvenes next October and determines whether it will rehear the case.

A Tennis Tourney Planned In July

An open tennis tournament is being planned for the city to take place the first week in July. The winners in the tournament will compete in a match with the Lynchburg Country Club. It is expected that the tournament will be played on Saturday so that a larger gallery may be present.

Dr. J. H. Herndon's recent stars are all in good form and with consistent practice until the tournament and a good brand of tennis is promised. In fact, local players are expected to display a high level of play at the end of the tournament that will be hard to overcome by Lynchburg.

Herndon Fined For Hurling Ball; Was Not Present

Hardin Herndon, manager and player on the High School baseball team, was fined this morning five dollars and costs in his absence on an assault charge growing out of an incident at Stonehill Jackson park on the team's last visit here in May. Herndon's lawyer, who announced that he would submit and pay the fine, said the negro who was injured when Herndon hurled a ball into the crowd, leachers from which place he was being raised by the colored fans, was also not present.

From a spectator's viewpoint, Herndon suddenly hurled a ball with all force into the crowd of negroes, which led to a riotous scene. The ball struck one of the negroes, causing a painful injury. Herndon at that time claimed that one of the negroes cursed him.

EVANGELIST SANKEY'S BANK ACCOUNT FOUND

NEW YORK, June 20.—The discovery of a bank account of $7,750 in the name of Ira D. Sankey, of the famous Evangelistic team of Moody and Sankey, led to the filling today of the Sankey will which has been dormant since the evangelist's death in 1904, in Brooklyn.

The will, dated September 13, 1902, provides for the equal distribution of the estate among his widow and his two sons, of whom have since died. The major portion of the $7,750 will now go to Grace Victoria Sankey, a grand-daughter, of Northport, Mass., the only surviving relative. The lawyers who filed the will said they were unable to estimate the value of the entire estate at present.

Captain T. B. Talbot, senior instructor for the Coast Artillery of Virginia last night inspected and gave instructions to the local military band in charge of A. A. Hall, Captain Tallaferra gave the local musicians much encouragement by his presence. Leader Hall last night also received a report of Col. Fox, Jr., inspection of the band and gave the local band the highest rating of any in the state.

Two Greensboro couples were issued wedding licenses yesterday by the clerk of the corporation court here. They were Fred Eugene Green and Naomi Fern Bowyer, and Aubrey Clayton Paisley and Pearl Donnell.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS "WORK" HERE YESTERDAY

Despite the high temperature prevailing yesterday, a large group of enthusiastic members of the Masonic fraternity spent the entire day, with intervals for meals, "working" or being worked on in the Lodge of Perfection, that branch of Scottish Rite Masonry which embraces the degrees from the fourth to the fourteenth, inclusive. This is really the first real working session of the lodge recently authorized and established in this city.

H. J. H. Begg, of Savannah, Ga., venerable master, presided, with J. W. Bellow as senior warden and W. H. Alvey, junior warden, assisted by Master of Ceremonies, Fiske White, K. C. C. H., of Greensboro, had charge of the induction of a class of 32 candidates, with William M. Bryndon, of this city as the exemplary candidate.

The work began at 10:30 a. m. and until the lunch hour when a recess or intermission was permitted, after that the work was resumed and continued until after 6 p. m. At 6:30 a banquet was served to the officers and the large class of candidates at the Hotel Burton, and this phase of the day's program was a notably enjoyable and refreshing one. Work was resumed at 8 p. m. and continued until 11:30.

A NEW MAGAZINE AT N. C. COLLEGE

(By The Associated Press)
RALEIGH, N. C., June 20.—For the purpose of training the agricultural students at North Carolina State College in agricultural journalism, the students of that department of the College have begun the publication of a monthly magazine. The first issue has just come off the press and carries as a cover a photograph of Governor Morrison. It contains articles of general interest in agricultural circles, most of which were prepared by the students.

C. D. Killian will act as editor-in-chief of the publication and will be assisted by a staff of students representing the various departments of agriculture. J. B. Crater has been named as business manager. The students will be assisted by a faculty committee.

It is the plan to have the bulk of the magazine written by the students but each month, it is said, an article will be solicited from a leading farmer of the State or from someone familiar with agricultural problems of the State.

Birthday Stirs Town But Boy Doesn't Envy Rockefeller

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
(Special to The Bee)

NEW YORK, June 21.—Joe Cappiello, 10-year-old street urchin, never had more than a dime to his name. Yet some day he expects to be as rich as John D. Rockefeller.

"Why not?" queries the youngster. "Was he any richer than me at my age?"

He wasn't. For a trip to Moravia Cayuga county, where Rockefeller spent his boyhood, proves it.

I took this trip to see whether Moravia had forgotten Rockefeller. Then, to see what the youth of 1923 thinks about opportunities I got together with Joe Cappiello, typical New York boy and discussed the matter.

There in the little upstate town they are busy preparing to celebrate the 8th birthday of their favorite son. It's coming on July 8, and is a bigger holiday in the little community than even the Fourth of July.

Old-timers who knew the John D. of seven and eight decades ago are kept busy repeating the stories of his boyhood. And with each retelling they become prouder.

One tells this story of Rockefeller's first earnings: "Just three quarters of a century ago John drove a flock of young turkeys down a mile trail to his home on the bank at the head of Owasco Lake and thereby earned his first penny. The little turkey herder tracked a wild turkey to her nest in the woods, brought home the brood and when the chicks were hatched carefully raised them and in the fall sold them in the Moravia market. The first money he earned he placed in a tin box on the mantelpiece. I guess that was the seed of his fortune. He must have saved a lot of money in that little tin box, probably dreaming of the day when he would be rich."

"Huh," says Joe, the West Side boy. "I made mine easier than that. I just ran an errand."

"That kinda shows that I kin make money quicker than the Rockefeller kid, don't it? All I need is the chance."

From other old-timers at Moravia come the intimate tales of how little John milked the cow, weeded the garden and chopped kindlings, how the wintery blasts driving up Owasco Lake sifted fine particles of snow through the chimneys in his attic room and upon his bed; how he first learned to swim and star at "cat."

"Bet I could beat him all hollow at the game," says Joe. "I'm the champ of these parts. I am. Watch me."

And he hit the old "cat" clear across the freight yards.

A. F. RIFFE DIES

(By The Associated Press)
STAUNTON, Va., June 20.—Azel F. Riffe, 34, business manager, during the past six years of the Leader Publishing Company, died this afternoon as a result of complications which followed an operation last Saturday for appendicitis. Mr. Riffe was a member of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, and was well known among southern newspaper publishers.

His widow, who was Miss Francis Chapman Ople before her marriage to Mr. Riffe in 1917, two brothers, and a sister, survive.

"But I understand," he went on, "that this Rockefeller man has taken to golf. I see his pictures in the papers."

"Now I ain't tried that game yet. But one day I will. And then maybe I'll be as good at it as I am at cat. I betcha."

Another old Moravian tells how Rockefeller made a go of his little garden. "From the farmlands above the lake young John used to raise his turkeys. The next year he had three hens and three broods. With his brother (the late William Rockefeller), John's daily task was the cutting of wood for the two stoves in the little home."

"I gotta bring wood home, too," says Joe, "though I don't have to cut it in the woods. I just pick it up on the lot. It's easier, I guess."

"And if I do all these things that the Rockefeller man did when he was small, and I do 'em better, haven't I got a better chance of making his money? I'll say I have!"

TRUCK DRIVER INDULGES HIS SENSE OF HUMOR

Word reached this office yesterday of the prize fool of all this neck of woods.

As D. and W. passenger train No. 4, enroute west out of Danville, was approaching a grade crossing in Schoolfield, a truck, pulled slowly by the driver, was slowing down. A. C. Critz was engineer of the train and he immediately threw on the brakes to stop his train, for he believed that the truck was going to stop and that an accident was inevitable. But it appears that the driver of the truck was merely indulging his peculiar sense of humor; he wanted to play a grotesque joke on the engineer and train. When the passenger train was fifty yards away and the engineer was suffering all kinds of strain, fearful of a fatal accident, the driver speeded up his truck and drove out of danger, turning round and waving the train crew. If the driver of the truck can be found it is expected that a warrant will be sworn out for his arrest as he violated the state law by not stopping at the grade crossing. It is not possible to proceed against him on his display of preposterous humor—his "peculiar playfulness," but it is very probable that if this proclivity if not curbed may lead him into some kind of serious trouble.

FARMERS OPPOSE HIGH SALARIES FOR OFFICIALS

A large number of farmers met at Crossville High School recently. C. R. Warren, of Shreveport, La., and Chatham, both made strong talks on Co-operative marketing. Following this meeting of the farmers held to discuss co-op affairs another meeting of the farmers was held and the matter of high salaries paid to county officers was discussed. The fee system, especially was condemned. The following resolution was passed on the subject:

"We, the voters and tax-payers of Pittsylvania county, in a general mass meeting assembled, do petition our legislators to establish flat salaries for our county officers, as we see our money being spent extravagantly in high salaries for office holders. We also recommend eliminating the office of Commissioner of Revenue in Pittsylvania county, as the people can easily meet the treasurer at their nearest precinct for the purpose of listing and paying their taxes."

SHANER FORMED TO CHATTANOOGA

It was learned last night that Dederick Shaner, who played right field last year for the Tobaccocons and who was with the team to New Orleans and by that team to Cleveland, had been formed out to the Chattanooga club of the Southern League. Shaner was used in only one game by Cleveland, but evidently he was also to coach for the club. The other day recorded the fact that he was put off the Polo Grounds for disputing a decision of the umpire. Shaner will play shortstop for Chattanooga.

CO-OPS RECEIVE JUDGMENT FOR BREACH CONTR'T

(By The Associated Press)
RALEIGH, N. C., June 20.—The North Carolina Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association secured its first judgments against members for non-delivery of tobacco today when Judge E. H. Cranmer signed judgments in six cases in which damages ranged from $50 to $150.

SAVAGE AND 15 BOYS ARE BACK FROM CAMP KENT

Physical Director G. N. Savage of the Y. M. C. A. returned yesterday with 15 lads from Camp Kent. Twenty of the 35 Danville boys on the camping trip returned Monday. Every one of the boys who participated in the camp returned with loud praises for the camp and hoping to be able to go back next summer.

PREDICTION OF DEATH WAS MADE

(By The Associated Press)
NEWARK, N. J., June 20.—Proof that the death of Raymond Avery was predicted several days before its occurrence by Mrs. Mary Creighton, his sister who with her husband, John, as charged, had poisoned her brother, will be offered at the trial. Prosecutor D'Aloia declared today.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have ever known. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown that the first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend," (Barnes, Scrantom, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and with my last two children I had only a nurse. I had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick, only about 10 minutes. My Mother's Friend was out there and grandmothers didn't start later, and meanwhile write to Bradfield's Remedies Co., B.A. containing information every expectant mother should have. 'Mother's Friend' is sold by all drug stores—everywhere."

MAY SPINNING IS SECOND HIGHEST

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 20.—Cotton spinning activity in May was the second highest of any month in the history of the industry, having been exceeded only by March this year, the census bureau's monthly report today showed. Cotton growing states made a new record in spinning activity having exceeded the March record by almost 4,500,000 active spindles.

Active spindles hours for May totaled 9,309,093,873 or an average of 249 hours for each spindle in place, compared with 8,787,443,897, or an average of 230 hours for April this year and 7,493,491,901, or an average of 203, in May last year.

Spinning spindles in place May 31 totaled 37,334,021 of which 35,390,187 were active during the month, compared with 37,237,865 and 35,515,791 in April this year and 36,884,133 and 31,652,061 in May last year.

The average number of spindles operated during May was 401,370 or at 107.7 per cent. capacity, in April this year, and 32,502,874, or at 88.1 per cent. capacity, in May last year.

Active spindles hours for May in cotton growing states totaled 5,120,875,509 or an average of 313 hours per spindle in place, compared with 4,808,775,761, or an average of 255 hours per spindle in place in April this year and 4,232,636,931, or an average of 265 in May last year.

REFUSES TO PAY BAND FOR MUSIC

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Professor Peter De Noto, whose brass band halted in front of the reviewing stand where Mayor Hylan and Governor Smith were seated during the jubilee parade on May 26 and pleadingly played, under the leader's direction, "How Dry I Am," has retained Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier to bring suit against the city for $320. Commissioner Governor A. Whalen, who engaged the band has refused to settle with the professor.

"How dry I am" was an interpellation and embarrassed the mayor, who was visibly agitated, Governor Smith laughed and thousands of spectators cheered, and Whalen ordered the professor to stop the band. But De Noto kept his musicians to the task until they had played the last note.

Commissioner Whalen said: "The band was given specific instructions to play at the reviewing stand and the piece certainly was not 'How Dry I Am.' The band violated its contract with city. I pay when I get good and ready, if at all."

EFFORT TO STIR UP FEELING ON RUM QUESTION

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
LONDON, June 20.—Hardly a day passes now without a series of questions in the House of Commons about the prohibition, and there are signs of an effort among some of the die-hard Tories to stir up a feeling against the United States over its shipping regulations.

Repeating No Sir W. Davidson today, Prime Minister Baldwin said no arrangement had been arrived at with the United States whereby liquor aboard British ships could be sealed up while in United States waters, but the United States had decided to permit liquor for medicinal purposes in accordance with the laws of the countries owning the vessels. Sir W. Davidson then asked if, in the event no agreement was reached, would the government give facilities for passing into law a bill to prevent American ships from entering British waters without adequate supplies of liquor.

Mr. Baldwin replied: "It is a hypothetical question and could not be dealt with until the occasion arose. Mr. Davidson insisted, saying British vessels were precluded from entering United States ports and said it was not time that Great Britain ceased its weakness in dealing with Foreign powers."

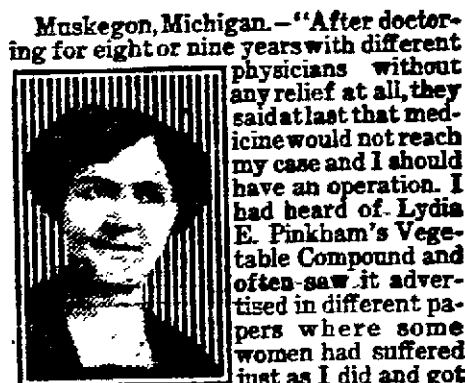

This raised a shout of protest from the labor benches, but the prime minister did not answer.

DOCTORS WANTED TO OPERATE

Mrs. Quillon Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her from an Operation

Muskegon, Michigan.—"After doctoring for eight or nine years with different physicians without any relief at all, they said that medicine would not reach my case and I should have an operation. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and often saw it advertised in different papers where some women had suffered just as I did and got well and strong again by taking the Vegetable Compound. I decided to see what it would do for me, and before I had finished the fourth bottle I was much better, the weakness stopped and the severe pains in my sides left me. I am now much stronger and do my own work and work in the factory besides. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and give it all the praise." —Mrs. NELLIE QUILLON, 17 Morris St., Muskegon, Mich.

Women should heed such warning symptoms as bearing-down pains and weakness, for they indicate some female trouble, and a persistent and untimely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will seldom fail to help.

30 Injured When Wind Blows Down N. C. Grandstand

Four Seriously Hurt and One May Die as Result of Forest City Tragedy.

(By The Associated Press)
FOREST CITY, N. C., June 21.—Thirty persons were hurt, four seriously, when the roof of the baseball grandstand was blown off by a violent wind, during the baseball game here yesterday afternoon between the Forest City and Carolina teams of the Blue Ridge League.

William Harrill, a ten-year-old boy, will probably die from a fractured skull. Harold Long received fractures of the shoulder blades and of the right leg and is considered in a critical condition. Roy Jones, of Spindale, one of the ball players, received a broken hip, and Horace Johnson, of Taylorsville, also a ball player, was painfully injured.

During the sixth inning of the game, which was attended by about 200 persons, rain suddenly began falling. The teams left the field and took shelter under the grandstand. Suddenly a great gust of wind struck the grandstand tearing off the roof, which fell partially over the stand with two score persons beneath the wreckage. All the injured were taken to the Rutherford hospital. An evangelistic tent was thrown over by the wind but none was injured. Practically no other damage was done in the town.

Cotton Growers Should Stick To a Few Varieties

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Special to The Bee)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—A strong plea for the concentration of cotton growers in the south on a few superior varieties and elimination of the numerous inferior kinds now grown, in order to stabilize the cotton crop of the United States and prevent the competition of the inferior cottons of India and China and other countries, was sounded by the Department of Agriculture today following a canvass of the varieties of cotton now being grown in the six cotton states east of the Mississippi.

Ninety-four distinct varieties were reported by county agents in the six states, these not including the different strains of some of the more widely used varieties such as Cleveland, Toole, Cook, and Columbia.

In eighty of the 174 counties reported, it is estimated that fifty per cent. or more of the cotton acreage is planted to a single variety. In 36 of these counties the percentage of acreage planted to a single variety is said to run higher than 75 per cent.

The result of the canvass, according to the Department of Agriculture, is to emphasize the danger to the quality of the cotton of the country from the multiplicity of varieties. With the large number of varieties in close association, mixing of seed in gins and cross-pollination in the fields, is claimed to be resulting in steady deterioration of most if not all of the varieties reported upon.

The predominant varieties planted in the eighty counties referred to are, Cleveland 16, Toole 15, and Cook 13. In 4, King in 3, Toole in 3, and Trice and College in one county each. Also the long staples, Lightning Express in 2 and Weber Delto type in one.

In times of cotton shortage ordinarily the spread in price between premium cottons and cottons of inferior staple is rapidly reduced or may disappear altogether, since under these conditions there is generally difficulty in making deliveries of the types of cotton specified in contracts, and therefore unusual leniency in waiving contract requirements is frequently extended. With the establishment of more normal market conditions, however, the discrimination between cotton of good quality and cotton of inferior staple either in price or in quality of the market to absorb cotton, is sharply accentuated.

With more money and effort being expended than ever before to promote cotton growing on a commercial scale in other parts of the world, competition from these sources with inferior types of American cotton will greatly increase, the Department says. Since experiments of the past decade have shown that it does not materially affect cost of production to grow superior varieties in more varied communities as compared with the present scattered system of growing of large numbers of varieties in a single region, it is declared that the assured future of the cotton-growing section in America is in standardizing upland cotton production to a very few of the superior varieties, and in improving the quality of their cotton in evenness of staple, strength and other desirable spinning qualities, so as to completely free the growers from the competition of inferior cottons from other parts of the world.

Good Morning Judge!

These warm days are apparently having a decided effect on those usually inclined to violate the law, for the reason that, since the sultry weather began, the docket has shown a decline. Monday a heavy docket faced the mayor but on Tuesday and Wednesday a decrease in the number of cases were shown and this morning—well, the docket contained but a few trivial cases.

Percy Hairston, colored, is alleged to have been conducting himself in a disorderly manner within the past several nights and he was fined ten dollars and costs with a warning from the mayor.

Jesse Riddle, rode a freight in from Lynchburg last night but landed in the arms of the law and was fined five dollars and costs this morning for trespass on the Southern.

Harden Herndon fined six dollars and costs on an assault charge.

Joe Hairston, colored, who was recently given thirty days in jail by Magistrate W. E. Griggs, for sale in the absence of Mayor Woodson, has been granted a new hearing and the case will be tried Saturday.

The case against Jake Jones and Charlie Stewart, colored, charged with creating a disturbance in South Eastern was set for tomorrow. Should the negroes submit they will be tried here but should they demand a trial, they will be turned over to the South Eastern authorities. James Green and E. K. Bower also involved in the difficulty the nature of which is not known.

Pemberton Watkins, colored, was fined $2.50 for operating a machine without a permit.

Legion Members Of Fifth District To Hold Convention Here Soon

Arrangements were completed last night at a meeting of American Legion officials held in the office of Post Commander W. A. Cousins, at the Schoolfield for the first convention ever held by the legionnaires in the Fifth Congressional district of Virginia.

It has been decided to hold this convention in Danville about July 11th of the date, however, subject to change in order that Col. E. E. Goodwin, of Emporia, department of Virginia, can attend, also department commander W. E. Cousins. The local legion officials will get in touch with Col. Goodwin and find out what date suits him best and the convention will be called accordingly.

Attending last night's meeting was C. O. McCormick, of Chatham district committee. The plans for the district meeting were discussed at length and it was agreed that the list of representatives at the convention should be one delegate for every enrolled legionnaire in any post in the district. There are in this district ten separate and distinct posts with a total enrollment of 557. Of this number 144 members are from Danville and members of the Danville post. According to this basis of representation

N. C. Co-Operative Association Wins Important Legal Victory

(From Co-operative Marketing News Bureau.)

RALEIGH, June 21.—The Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association yesterday secured judgment against its member growers from four counties of North Carolina in the Wake county Superior court, in the form of liquidated damages for tobacco delivered outside of the association, contrary to its contract with its members. The success of the co-operative association in securing liquidated damages in these first cases, which involve judgments, is hailed as another important legal victory by its members whose contract was upheld last April by the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Securing a restraining order against E. A. Filks, said to be the largest tobacco farmer in Wake county, the association yesterday took its first successful step in protecting the 1933 crop against members who declared their intention to deliver their tobacco outside of the association. It is reported in the application for the restraining order that Filks has declared his intention of selling all of his

Officers Capture 305 Gallons Near Henry Station

(Special to The Bee)
MARTINSVILLE, June 21.—Two captures made by officers in this section during the past two days. A Dodge touring car, one team and two-horse wagon. Both captures were made in the vicinity of Henry Station on the Norfolk and Western, and officers taking part included, Officers Via, Grady Stultz, H. L. Turner and L. C. Minter.

Yesterday afternoon the Dodge car, bearing a Virginia license, headed south, and occupied by two white men, was captured by Officers Turner and Stultz. The men escaped, but the 110 gallons of liquor found in the car was destroyed and the car brought to Martinsville. Officers are of the opinion that they recognized the men who escaped.

The first capture was made by Officers Via and Stultz, who captured a team and wagon near Henry Station, but the driver failed to return their salutation and left his team and the wagon, containing 195 gallons of liquor with them. The driver, a white man, who also took over plants, mines, and industries and to force operation of them. The liquor was poured out and the team and wagon brought to Martinsville.

Marcus Garvey Gets Term Of 5 Years

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 21.—Marcus Garvey, self-styled provisional president of Africa, was sentenced today to the Atlanta penitentiary for five years for fleeing the public through the sale of Black Star line stock.

Marcus Garvey's conviction recalls the activity of one of his agents in Danville about two years ago when a negro who appeared in this city selling stock for the concern was held for violating the State "blue sky" law. The negro selling stock appeared in the pulpit of one or more churches and spoke of arveys idealistic theory of a negro Republic in Liberia. He was ultimately convicted of violating the State law.

Lisbon Homes Invaded as Police Search for Bombs

LISBON, June 21.—Nightly bomb explosions which have been terrorizing the residents of this city for more than two months, are still as much of a mystery as ever, although the police have resorted to many drastic expedients in their efforts to find the culprits.

In the small hours of the morning recently, the entire police force, flanked by the Republican Guards, was divided into squads and ordered to search all Lisbon dwellings for explosives. Nothing was immune to the raiders, from the humblest peasant homes to the residence of the Duke de Palmella. One bomb and a rifle, found at the Communists' Union, was the reward of the searchers.

Mitchell Replaces Burned Building; Modern Structure

One of the most modern and attractive buildings for business purposes on the Northside is now in course of erection by W. R. Mitchell as an extension to his furniture store on North Main street. It will be recalled that on April the 6th last, Mr. Mitchell suffered a heavy loss by fire, and due to his nearness to the fire department carried no insurance. The building when completed will have a floor space of fourteen thousand feet, one on Main street and the other on Worsham street. These fronts will be of marble base at bottom, and of prime glass at top, and are said to be by the contractors, J. L. Crockett & Co., to be among the most elaborate and attractive fronts in the city. The interior will have large and wide floor space all around, extending from North Main to Worsham streets, giving an elaborate and handsome show room. The floors are to be of red tile with red effect. The architectural plans being made with special reference largely to display of goods and when finished will be filled with the latest designs of housefurnishings obtainable. The structure will be a real ornament to the business block in which it is located and an asset to the city at large. The construction is under the management of Mr. Moser and the contract calls for the completion is thirty-five days.

THREE YOUNG WOMEN ARRESTED BY POLICE

Three young women, Lillie Harder, Agnes Elliott and a Bell girl whose first name was not ascertained, were this morning arrested by local officers who had sought them in connection with a charge in connection with the arrest several days ago of James Bell, father of one of the girls, on a charge of transporting whisky. The cases of the young women will be disposed of in Chatham, it is said.

Several days ago Bell hired a car from the U-Drive-It concern. The proprietor got word that Bell intended going after a load of whisky in the machine. Tom Bailey, connected with the firm, sought the aid of the police but he was told that it was out of their jurisdiction on account of the long distance from town. Bailey took the initiative and with another man then set out in a machine to overtake Bell. When he finally ran across the machine several miles out, Bailey found that Bell had the three young women in the machine. Investigation also revealed five gallons of corn whisky in the machine. Bailey took charge of the machine and he came back to town, leaving the party on the country road with the whisky. Thus the police have two witnesses who claim that it was this incident which led to the arrest of Bell several days ago and of the three girls today.

The young women were closely questioned this morning but they were mum on the incident and they declared that if she told the police a true story, Bell would kill her. The police described them as hard to "pump" for information.

Danville Club To Entertain Club Of Martinsville

Twenty-five or more members of the Martinsville Business and Professional Women's Club which was recently established, are expected to arrive in Danville in automobiles at 7 o'clock this evening. They will be the guests of the Danville club during the evening at the Country Club where supper will be served at seven o'clock. Arrangements have been made for thirty-five persons. The street cars will be met at the Schoolfield terminus for the Danville members and they will be taken by automobile to the Country Club for supper. Rev. J. Callaway Roberts, pastor of Mount Vernon M. E. Church, will make the principal address and his wife will sing.

Tonight's event was to have been held a week ago but rain caused the postponement.

—Miss Elizabeth Murray has returned after a three-weeks' visit in Washington.

—Miss Nora Waddill has gone to Chicago to spend the Summer, visiting her sister, Mrs. E. M. Wallace.

Another Refinery In Pa. Burning

Fears Expressed for Safety of Two Million Dollar Plant as Flames Creep to Gas and Benzine Tanks.

(By The Associated Press)

OIL CITY, Pa., June 21.—Fire caused by an explosion in a vapor line spread so quickly in the plant of the Pennsylvania-American Refining Co. today that ten stills were soon in flames and several thousand barrels of oil were put in danger. Firemen were summoned from nearby towns. One man was burned. Soon after the explosion the fire spread toward the number of tanks filled with gasoline and benzine and fears were expressed for the safety of Rouseville, the suburb in which the refinery, a two-million dollar plant, is located. Merchants began moving their stocks and all automobiles were ordered off the streets by the state police.

Pythians Stage Membership Drive

Phoenix Lodge Knights of Pythias of this city are now engaged in a vigorous membership campaign, and are receiving each meeting night numbers of applications and initiating into the secrecy of the lodge large classes at all regular meetings of the organization. They are not making what some might term a "drag-net" drive, but are seeking to secure the affiliation of the most substantial young citizens. To a large degree this effort is being made to multiply members, but in connection with this idea they are endeavoring to memorialize the work of the present Supreme Commander of the United States, Col. George C. Cabell now of Norfolk, who was reared in this city and practiced the profession of law many years here. He has been for many years a member of Phoenix Lodge. All Pythian lodges are now under his command, and each like the one here are making strenuous efforts to make his administration as Supreme commander an eminent success. The present officers of Phoenix Lodge are W. E. Talbot, chancellor; Ike Berman, vice chancellor; F. K. Farley, prelate; Jack Ashworth, master of works; Leo Baines, master of arms; Wooding, Sr., master of Exchequer; T. A. Fox, keeper of records and awards; Cooper Hodnett, master of finances; Charles Bourne, inner guard, and W. S. Eanes, outer guard. Despite the warm weather they have a large attendance of membership each Tuesday night.

Popular Salesman Gives More Evidence About Tanlac

Fred E. Rose, 2711 Avenue D, Brooklyn, N. Y., popular salesman for the Eagle Roller Mills Co., has the following to say regarding his experience with the Tanlac treatment:

"I have taken Tanlac with such splendid results myself that I am glad to give the treatment my highest endorsement. At the time I began taking it I felt all out of sorts generally; my appetite was off. I was troubled with constipation, and tired so easily that my work was a physical effort. "I was familiar with the merits of Tanlac through the experience of another person here in Brooklyn who had taken it, so I naturally turned to the medicine myself. As a result my appetite has become normal, constipation has ceased to bother me, I have plenty of strength and energy for my work and, all in all, feel one hundred per cent. better. Tanlac is certainly great."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.—adv.

Much Progress Made by Vaughn; Is Sent to Ohio

RALEIGH, N. C., June 21.—Acting on orders from the Federal Department of Agriculture, Dr. Paul Vaughn, who for some time has been in charge of the work of eradicating tuberculosis among cattle in the state, will leave here this afternoon for Columbus, Ohio, where he will assume charge of the co-operative field work of the department in that state.

The authorities in charge of agricultural work here regret very much Dr. Vaughn's transfer as during his administration of office great progress has been made in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Twenty-five counties have appropriated funds for the work and the satisfactory progress which is said to have been made under Dr. Vaughn's leadership has attracted the notice of officials in other states and many of them have adopted the North Carolina plan of operation. One of Dr. Vaughn's duties in Ohio will be to inaugurate the North Carolina methods.

In commenting on Dr. Vaughn's departure, State Veterinarian Moore said today that by reason of his excellent work "we now have about ten counties that have been recommended as tuberculosis free areas an account of the tests made in them. These counties are Buchanan, Rowan, New Hanover, Cabarrus, Davidson, Forsyth, Scotland, Davie, Cumberland and Forsyth."

"During the year 1922 we tested 114,296 head of cattle of which 785 were found to be tuberculous. At the present rate of progress it will not be long before every county in North Carolina has appropriated money to eradicate this dread disease in animals and we hope that the state will be one of the first in the union with all of its cattle tested. In all of this work Dr. Vaughn has been of wonderful assistance."

Use Of Insulin Helps in T. B.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 21.—The discovery of insulin for the cure of diabetes by Dr. F. G. Banting of Toronto, Canada, may be considered a great aid in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, said Dr. W. D. Sansum, of the Potter Metabolic Clinic, Santa Barbara, Cal., today at the annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association now in session in this city. "A good many cases of tuberculosis are also diabetic. Hereafter the treatment of diabetes meant a severe diet, often meaning undigestible food, although the treatment of tuberculosis calls for the best nourishment possible. Cases affected with both diseases have in the past been nearly hopeless."

The use of insulin, Doctor Sansum pointed out, now frees such patients from all diabetic restrictions, and if tuberculosis is present, this may be treated with the best general diet that the market affords. One patient under the care of Dr. Sansum gained 35 pounds, he said, and weighs more than he ever has weighed. In every one of his tuberculous diabetic cases, laboratory findings have shown progressive improvement. "It now appears," said Dr. Sansum, "that such patients have the same chance of recovery as have similar patients without diabetes."

Don't Hide Them With A Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee—adv.

EASIEST WAY TO REMOVE UGLY HAIRY GROWTHS

(Beauty Culture.)

Here is a method for removing hair from arms, neck or face that is unfailing and is quite inexpensive. Mix a thick paste with some powdered talc and water and spread on hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes, rub it off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. No harm or inconvenience results from this treatment, but be careful to get genuine talc and mix fresh when wanted.—adv.

"MILLENNIUM" HITS ILLINOIS TOWN AS CHURCHES UNITE

THIS IS THE FIRST CONSOLIDATED CHURCH IN ILLINOIS. IT IS AT METAMORA. BELOW IS ITS MINISTER, REV. J. D. CALHOUN.

(Special to The Bee.)

METAMORA, Ill., June 21.—Church folks have forgotten their doctrinal differences here.

There used to be five Protestant churches. Now there is only one. Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists and Christians all had small houses of worship with straggling congregations.

Today they all meet under one roof in a building large enough to house them all comfortably.

Rev. J. D. Calhoun, now attends to their combined spiritual needs.

The new church incorporates every one of the distinctive denominational architectural features the old structures contained.

Thus goes to Metamora, where Abraham Lincoln and other scintillating legal lights practiced in the days preceding the Civil War, the distinction of opening the first consolidated church in Illinois.

And Metamora believes it has solved the problem of the small-town church.

"Mrs. Carrick" Is a Man According To Examination

CHICAGO, June 20.—"Mrs. Carrick," identified by Mrs. Richard Tesmer, as the person who murdered her husband on the evening of June 5 was turned over to the matron at the police station last night, the amazing discovery was made that "Mrs. Carrick" is a man. "She" had been posing as the wife of Frank Carrick, and had successfully fooled the police, but when the matron stripped "her" for the usual record examination, the deception was immediately apparent. Posing as a woman, the suspect used inflated rubber pads to fill out his breast. He kept his throat, shoulders and legs from the knees down soft and white by the use of oils and powder and by frequent shaving.

Despite the fact that a physical examination showed "Mrs. Carrick" to be a fully developed male, he still insists he is a woman—both a man and woman—but perhaps more of a male than a female. He was at once sent over to the corridor for male prisoners and locked into sullen silence, refusing to answer any questions whatever.

Has Two Natures.

"That is the woman who killed my husband. I never could forget that voice and that peculiar smile," said Mrs. Richard Tesmer today, as she gazed at Mrs. Frances Carrick, the latest suspect to be brought before the widow.

Vehemently proclaiming her innocence, Mrs. Carrick was led away by the police, who are positive they have in custody the woman who shot down the wealthy insurance man, as she and her male companion were robbing them at the door of their garage the evening of June 5.

Mrs. Carrick, whose home is in Reynoldsville, Ohio, is a baffling personality. She has eyes that might easily be called grey, blue or black, according to her moods. Her voice is harshly metallic and she hears all the outer indications of a drug addict. Her hair, underneath a bobbed reddish brown wig, is black. She has a broad square face, a flawless and beautifully white neck and shoulders, but her arms are brawny and hairy and her heavy coarse hands show nails gnawed to the quick. She has shapely feminine ankles and feet, but admits she shaves twice a week or oftener. Her chin today bore a coarse two days growth of bristles.

"God gave me two natures," she said, after she had been taken to the station after the identification. "It has been my curse through life. My father never could forgive me for it. Whenever I do woman's work, I dress like a woman and I prefer to be that way. But when I have a man's job ahead, well—"

She readily identified several postcard pictures of herself dressed as a man. In her elaborately furnished

Negro Held For Passing Bogus Checks In City

Willie Darey, a negro, is being held by the police on a charge of passing worthless checks. Darey has been identified by at least two merchants as having passed bad checks on them and the negro has admitted passing one check and says he was intending to cash another for nine dollars when officers arrested him. The arrest was made early yesterday morning by Sergeant H. C. Haraway and Patrolmen E. A. Adams, L. O. Belton and W. T. Kessler.

The negro at the time was found with a nine dollar check in his hand. He told the police that the checks were being written by another man, whose name he gave as Will Jones, but the officers have been unable to locate any such man and believe Darey is telling a misleading tale.

Various names were used on the checks. C. A. Ferrell, who operates a grocery store on Plum street this morning visited the negro's cell in jail and identified him as the man who bought some goods from him and presented a check for $20. The police say that a number of merchants have complained recently about having worthless checks passed.

Date of the trial for Darey has not been set. Further investigations will be made.

Says Weekly Press Closer to People Than Daily

BLOWING ROCK, N. C., June 21.—The weekly newspaper, if it be progressive, is closer to the people in the rural districts than the daily," declared J. B. Sherrill, president of the North Carolina Press Association in his annual address delivered before that body here today.

"The weekly press can, if it will," he continued, "do more to keep the people from leaving the country sections than can the daily newspaper. It can insist on a better standard of living, of the introduction of various modern conveniences of better schools, of better roads and in many ways it can help make the rural sections more desirable places to live in. It is somewhat distressing, therefore, to note that the circulation of the weekly newspapers has not only not increased within the past ten years, but that it actually has decreased."

The speaker cited figures of the Federal census reports showing that the circulation of the weekly papers in New York state had decreased by 25 per cent. between 1914 and 1919, and gave it as his opinion that their influence had been lessened to the same extent.

"The newspaper is necessarily a community builder," Mr. Sherrill asserted. "It is a trite saying that newspaper are 'moulders of public opinion,' but this fact was never more apparent than it is today. Even the publisher of the smallest paper, who often does not realize the great importance of his work, wields an influence which permeates the whole community and influences, sometimes unconsciously, the trend of community action. In fact, the newspaper by its forward policy can make a community progressive, or it can by its failure to function as a leader of thought and action, retard progress and keep its town always in the rear ranks."

The speaker touched on the rising cost of publishing newspapers, pointing attention to the fact that although retail and other prices in practically every line had declined since the World War that expenses of publishing had steadily risen and that many publishers who thought they were making profits actually were losing. He asserted, in the face of these facts, that it was a suicidal policy for publishers, who also operated job printing establishments, to continue to cut prices. He urged upon the members of the association to deal with the problems of overhead expense in a sensible manner otherwise the product, be it a newspaper or a job from the printing department, most certainly will decline in quality and thus in usefulness.

President Sherrill described the efforts now under way to establish a school of journalism at Washington and Lee as a memorial to General Lee and urged upon the members of their order to support the undertaking to the fullest extent.

"It is the plan of the committee in charge," he said, "to raise a fund of $125,000 first from the publishers in the South and to use this as a basis for argument to enlist the support of the general public in this great enterprise. I sincerely hope that every member of our Association may become a contributor, in a large or small degree, to the consummation of this memorial."

Asserting that Newspaper Ethics constituted one of the most important problems of the average publisher, the speaker urged the adoption of the code of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"A newspaper is a proponent of public service," he stated, "and it should be governed by ethical standards. Private selfishness should be eliminated, and the public good always should be paramount. In order to accomplish this in the best and highest way, a general code of ethics should be adopted and observed."

Quoting from the American Society code dealing with responsibility as the right of the newspaper to attract and hold readers' restricted by "nothing but considerations of public welfare" and the freedom of the press "to be guarded as a vital right of mankind," the speaker expressed the sincere hope that such a code might be adopted by the North Carolina publishers. He then continued to read extracts from the code dealing with independence as "freedom from all obligations except that of fidelity to the public interest," sincerity, truthfulness and accuracy as "good faith with the reader and the foundation of all journalism worthy of the name," impartiality in differentiating between news reports and expressions of opinion, fair play to all sides in the question of the right to expression through the press, regardless of personal bias; and decency as the high duty of every publisher to the high duty free of items intended to excite the baser side of man's nature deliberately to vicious instinct."

In closing, Mr. Sherrill urged the members to give their fullest support to the North Carolina Press Association over a period of 34 years and urged those present to flow him to give their best efforts for the improvement of newspaper work generally and the advancement of the ideals of the Association.

Marwena Bride Said "Yes" to A Royal Prince

CAIRO, June 21.—Cairo is coddling again. The inhabitants had barely recovered from the Tutankhamen attack when a scion of the Egyptian royal house secretly married an English girl.

The bride was Miss Marwena Bird, and the royal bridegroom is Prince Said Halim, second cousin of King Fuad. The minute the engagement was announced, the prince's love for an English maid of another faith they began making objections, but not nowhere with them. The prince simply took his sweetheart into a Moslem religious court, went through the ceremony and ran away to see Europe in the fashion of honeymooners.

Miss Bird since the war has been one of the bright figures of Cairo's ballrooms. Her father was a Colonel stationed in Egypt before the war. The prince, who is 15, already has the reputation of being a good prophet and a reckless man with his purse.

His talent for getting rid of money came to public notice when he was sent to England before the war to study under army tutors. He was so extravagant that he had to be sent away to Switzerland, where, in those days, there were fewer opportunities for getting poor quickly.

His penchant for extravaganzas was recognized during the war when he persistently wrote to the newspapers that Turkey and Germany were going to fall. As everyone knows, this forecast came about in a manner, so the prince is now a prophet with some glory in his own land.

All Aboard for the 3-Mile Limit

The latest pleasure device to be introduced at Atlantic City is the water bicycle. It is capable of making a fair rate of speed through the water, and some enthusiasts hope to be able to make it go the full three miles to the edge of the prohibition limit.

Some Meats Sell Lower Than in 1913

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 21.—The recent announcement from one of the statistical bureaus of the United States government that the cost of living is approximately 67 per cent. higher today than it was ten years ago has brought a statement from F. W. Waddell, vice president of Armour & Co., to the effect that wholesale selling prices for meat are in some cases lower than they were in 1913, and in others at almost exactly the same level.

Mr. Waddell submits the following comparative prices based on an average of the trading in May, 1913, and May, 1923:

	1923	1913
Pork Loins	16 1/4	14 1/2
Boston Butts	12 1/2	12 1/2
Spare Ribs	08 1/2	10 1/2
Beef Carcasses	13	12
Loose Lard	10.18	10.60
Ham	21	23

In 1913 and in 1923 the average cost of hogs was about the same, but since 1913 the cost of manufacturing live animals into meat has increased materially, as has the cost of distributing the finished product. The prices quoted above are to retailers. Retail prices vary according to the grades handled, and the service which a retailer gives to the householder.

NINE MEN ARE SAVED

(By The Associated Press.)

DULUTH, Minn., June 20.—Hemmed in on all sides by a raging brush fire, nine men engaged in fighting fire along the Loon River in the vicinity of Echo Lake, were saved, according to a dispatch from the Duluth arrival of a heavy rainfall, according to a telephone message from the state ranger station at Orr today. The men suffered slight burns.

BERGDOLL ARRESTED

(By The Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, June 20.—Erwin R. Bergdoll was arraigned today before Federal Judge Arthur S. Van Valkenburgh on a charge of conspiracy to escape the draft laws and released on $10,000 bond signed by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company with headquarters in Baltimore.

Says State Aid Is Needed to Fight Disease

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 21.—"It is a primary duty of the state to protect the public from inroads of communicable disease, and to institute measures for the prevention of non-communicable diseases," said Dr. Linsly R. Williams, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, addressing that body here today.

"That the state appreciates this duty is evidenced by the creation of state and local boards of health and the support given to health activities by budgets voted for the maintenance of these boards. But boards of health are able to go only as far in controlling disease as public opinion will support them. An effective campaign against disease cannot be carried on by money alone. It must have the support of public opinion. This opinion is best secured through the membership and support of voluntary health and tuberculosis associations which furnish the necessary leadership through which the people can express their opinion and have the functions of voluntary health organizations. Therefore, they should gain the support of public opinion and other official health agencies so that the latter may be adequately financed and operated for the good of the community."

MRS. BERMAN'S MOTHER DIES AT NEW YORK

(By The Associated Press.)

Mrs. Rosa Berman, of this city, has been notified of the death of her mother, Mrs. B. Monsky, at her home in New York city Wednesday at midnight. Mrs. Monsky was about 72 years of age.

Mrs. Berman and son, Isaac Berman, left this afternoon for New York to attend the funeral.

Six Men Out For the Harrisonburg Postmastership

(By The Associated Press.)

SIX candidates are competing for the civil service examination for the Harrisonburg, Va., postmastership, which becomes vacant when the four-year term of the present postmaster expires on August 15.

The candidates are: William H. Van Felt, Charles A. Hammer, Frank A. Branum, Edgar A. Bigler, J. E. L. Hughes and Wilmer C. Chandler.

The time for filing applications and examination papers expired at midnight Tuesday, June 19.

The commission will require about six or seven weeks to grade the papers of the six applicants, provided nothing unusual or complicated is encountered, and certify the names of the three highest eligibles to the Postoffice Department.

The department will then transmit the names of the eligibles to former Congressman Stemp and State Chairman Crupper and ask them to recommend one of the eligibles for the place. It is expected all these details will be worked out in time to appoint the new postmaster by August 15th when the term of the incumbent expires.

The salary of the Harrisonburg postmaster is $3200 a year.

of high causes.—Emerson.

THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1923.
MT. ETNA IN ERUPTION.
One can but admire the trustfulness of Sicilians who periodically
throughout the ages have been driven out from their homes before the molten streams of lava emitted by the mountain. That slumbering giant which in moments of wakefulness
pours destruction down its slopes.
Notwithstanding that outstanding catalyst in ancient history, the destruction of Pompeii and its people,
the dual visitation on Catania which was totally destroyed in the eleventh century and again in the sixteenth,
the olive and the grape growers persist in living in those charming villages which during the mountain's more pacific moments nestle under the lowering peak.

Like previous outbursts of the mountain Mt. Etna's latest eruption came without warning but again the world has been spared chronicling a tragedy, for there has been no loss of life, insofar as the reports from Italy indicate. The slow moving streams of molten rock falling by gravities down the side of the mountain permits of flight but human ingenuity
has yet to find a way to spare enormous losses. One can readily visualize the sense of hopelessness of the Sicilians as they view and the appalling sight of those livid fissures in the hillside and the slow envelopment of towns and villages burst into flame
and being engulfed in moving mass
and the total destruction of the growing crops. Still the eruption will not have material effect on the Sicilians—
they will return when the eruption has terminated and will resume their work as husbandmen in the same area undeterred by the wiping out of their world's goods.

ROTARY PRINCIPLES AND THE SCHOOLS

Raymond M. Havens, president of the International Rotary now in convention at St. Louis offers food for reflection in his rather drastic but none the less true definition of the useful citizen. In his address delivered yesterday he said that every community is what its business men make it and that the danger of civilization was not so much the reactionary elements in it but the passive group, those who shrink from community obligations.
The application may be general.
Our city schools will be what our city business men make them. They will not develop of their own accord
but they will remain inert as long as inertia prevails. Given the same degree of personal interest and personal support that was manifested when the street bond issue was before the public two years ago when the business men exemplified the truism of Mr. Havens' theory the school and the sewer bond issues today would not be entering the tortuous passages of a legal labyrinth.
Danville's school problem today is no nearer solution than it was when the bond question was first discussed
a year ago. The new school session will be here in ten weeks with more children seeking an education than can possibly be cared for.

FOR BOYS ONLY

This is written for all lads who are just striking out in the world for themselves.
You will get a lot of hard bumps in the next few years.
They will seem harder to you than they really are. The reason they will seem harder is that your parents up to now have been taking these bumps for you—shielding you against them. This happens in all generations, and later you will do the same for your children. As time rolls

on, you will become calloused to these hard knocks. Like going barefoot—at first it hurts the tender feet, but you soon get used to it. So don't get discouraged. Keep in mind that,
as it takes hard work to develop your muscles, so also it takes quite a bit of rough treatment to "bring you out"—to develop your courage and resourcefulness, to enable you handle
power wisely and responsibility sanely.
Many of the greatest heartaches
of life come in those tender years
when we strike out in the world for ourselves. Later you will realize that the heartaches were mountains made out of molehills.

As you go on through life you will find two distinct classes of people.
One will go out of its way to help
you, to give the guiding directions
that it learned by bitter experience.
Pay close attention to these people, especially the old. They know the shortcuts to take and the pitfalls to avoid.

The others are nasty in varying degrees. At times they'll seem to be in the majority. They are the people who make life disagreeable as well as wretched for themselves as well as others. As a rule they are diseased, either mentally or physically. In this class you'll find the cranky boss, the inconsiderate stranger, also the vulture eager to take advantage of your youthful gullibility, helplessness and lack of experience.

As far as possible, ignore them. By no means, let them make you de-spendent, discouraged, bitter or cynical. Remember that no one is worth getting angry at. Anger and resentment are deadly poisons—to the body, thinking and spiritual development.

Young people, striking out for themselves, have a tendency to drift away from the folks at home. This is always regretted later in life, when it is too late to make amends, when we begin to realize the heartaches
and privations endured by our loving parents to get us started on the right road and to give us a better chance than they had.

If you go to another town, write frequently. Father and mother generally can steer you properly when you're in doubt. They may seem old-fashioned. Possibly that's because they have the old-fashioned quality, horse sense.

HIGHLY SPECULATIVE
(Philadelphia Record.)

The startling suspension of a brokerage house in New York that had been in existence for 70 years, and that has frequently been mentioned as a "Gibraltar," is attributed to losses during the war on account of the large business with Germany, and to operations in oil stocks and German marks.
The first might baffle any banking house. Although there are people who imagine that bankers bring on war, there is hardly any class of persons so liable to suffer from war.
The age that capital is timid contains far more truth than the notion that bankers seek the opportunities
for wealth afforded by hostilities.
War destroys a huge amount of material, and gets in the way of creating a firm with a large amount of German business would inevitably suffer from the interruption of business and the losses of Germany.

But the other two items are hardly consistent with capital banking habits. It is inconceivable that in this country, England, and some other countries there has been so vast a speculation in marks as has been disclosed. For a little while after the war it was not unreasonable
to buy marks with the idea that Germany might resume specie payments
and then marks would reach par.
But since the mark fell below eight cents, and the volume of issue got into the billions and trillions, it has been absolutely certain that Germany never could resume the payment of marks, and could not even give it a visible fraction of its par value. The speculation, however, went on after the mark had almost disappeared from sight, and after the volume issued was great enough to paper Germany and promised to suffice to paper Europe.

The number of motor vehicles used by the army created a tremendous demand for gasoline, and when the war subsided automobiles were turned out at the rate of millions a year, and every machine created a demand for more gasoline. The oil industry was one of the first to respond to the war impetus, and the peace demand has proved greater than the war demand.
Other branches of the iron and steel trade might be inert, but there was almost always activity in steel and iron pipe.

Money has been put into oil wells
in vast quantities, but there is a considerable amount of guesswork about the presence of oil, even among the best of geologists. There are many holes bored that yield nothing. There is so much uncertainty about oil that one would not expect a banking house to take large risks in that field.
In the first five months of the war
the average monthly capitalization
of oil companies was between $7,000, 000 and $8,000,000. In 1915 it was a little less. In 1916 it was about $25,000,000. In 1917 it doubled that amount. In 1918 it dropped but in 1919 the monthly average was over $125,000,000. It was less in the next year and not much more than $100, 000,000 a month in 1921. In 1922 the monthly capitalizations ranged from $25,000,000 to $225,000,000, exceeding $100,000,000 in each of seven months. In five months of this year the capitalizations ranged from $37, 000,000 in March to $175,000,000 in April, and in May they fell just below $100,000,000.

The aggregate investment in a huge sum. Of course, there were large profits, but it was inevitable that there should be large losses, and there is not only uncertainty about where oil will be struck, but there is uncertainty about how long it will flow. It would be difficult to name
two more speculative lines of financial adventure than oil and German marks. There is reason to hope that this firm will be saved; it is said to own a large amount of assets that are "good but old." These cannot be marks or oil stocks.
Love's a gamble. Texas shuck who played with bears and diamonds and lost with both clubs and patted in the face with a spade.

DRAKES BRANCH, June 21.—
(Grapevine Wireless).—Now we don't know whether the bond issue has carried or not. Two eminent lawyers disagree and each is confident that he is right. The electoral board will re-count the vote and check up on property owners to determine if a legal majority of those actually voting resulted on Tuesday. Then the big question as to whether the language of the law means a two-thirds majority of those voting, or of those qualified to vote, must be settled.

The opposition is chucking and sitting tight, while the old town is plunged into a controversy enduring the first hot spell that is likely to approach the boiling point before a decision is reached. It just seems that this restless people must be forever scrapping over something. It doesn't help the situation to blame the
"slackers" after the mischief is done.
Men disagree honestly and their opinions deserve respect. What we are looking for now is a way out.

"Pate" Hatcher says we will have to change the city slogan. Instead of "Danville Does Things," he suggests "Danville Loses Things," and cites recent history to back up his contention. Let's see about it. We lost the Lorillard factory—the National Highway—the Southern Railway
offices—the congressman—the Durrell
donation to Hill Top—the uptown
ticket office—the State Senatorship—the public library—the Marshall-Field Warehouse—the base ball game—and
the BOND ISSUE (perhaps).

Just between ourselves the record
looks bad, it does not reflect effective leadership. There's something dead up the creek. Let's face the facts honestly and cure up the evils that beset us. Let's see about it. We lost the Lorillard factory—the National Highway—the Southern Railway
offices—the congressman—the Durrell
donation to Hill Top—the uptown
ticket office—the State Senatorship—the

Warehouse—the base ball game—and
the BOND ISSUE (perhaps).

And the bonding-board likewise.

cordial terms, but it does not suggest
further negotiations for recognition

LETTER FROM PRISCILLA BRAD-FORD TO MRS. MALE AL-
DEN PRESCOTT

MY DEAR FRIEND:
Things are not as bad as they looked at first. Of course, knowing that you would be heartbroken if they had
been found to be as I thought they were, I am hastening to write to you.
Young Mrs. Prescott, I learn, is
here with her mother and father seeing her younger sister off for London.
But you can see how big the entire family is when I tell you that this younger sister is going abroad with-
out an escort or chaperon.
Mr. Whitney seems to be one of the party everywhere they go and I
do not wonder why he and Mrs.
Prescott were alone together on the
night which I saw them, for since
that time, until the boat left this morning, the whole party, inclusive
of even Mr. Hamilton, seemed to be on pleasure bent.
Of course I have not called upon
Mrs. Prescott. I hardly think she would remember me, but my friend,
Sarah Peabody, and I have managed
to see them often, for we sit almost
daily for quiet talks in the Peacock Alley of their hotel watching
the crowds passing to and fro.
Mrs. Prescott is wearing some gorgeous clothes. I presume they are a part of her wardrobe in London.
She says she wants to show all this
when her husband is not with her.
I overheard someone say the other
night as they passed us, "Yes, that
is the Hamilton family of Pittsburgh
and the young man with them."

here with her mother and father seeing her younger sister off for London.
But you can see how big the entire
family is when I tell you that this
younger sister is going abroad with-
out an escort or chaperon.
Mr. Whitney seems to be one of the party everywhere they go and I
do not wonder why he and Mrs.
Prescott were alone together on the
night which I saw them, for since
that time, until the boat left this
morning, the whole party, inclusive
of even Mr. Hamilton, seemed to be
on pleasure bent.
Of course I have not called upon
Mrs. Prescott. I hardly think she
would remember me, but my friend,
Sarah Peabody, and I have managed
to see them often, for we sit almost
daily for quiet talks in the Peacock Alley of their hotel watching
the crowds passing to and fro.
Mrs. Prescott is wearing some gorgeous clothes. I presume they are
a part of her wardrobe in London.
She says she wants to show all this
when her husband is not with her.
I overheard someone say the other
night as they passed us, "Yes, that
is the Hamilton family of Pittsburgh
and the young man with them."

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
LONDON, June 20.—The British government today received a final note from the Soviet, accepting the settlement of the Russo-German dispute. The note was couched in cordial terms, but it does not suggest
further negotiations for recognition
immediately.

SHIPBUILDING INCREASES
LONDON, June 10.—The shipbuilding industry of Great Britain is showing a marked contrast to the dullest prevailing a year ago.
The British India Company has let contracts for 16 oil-burning vessels, aggregating approximately 162,000
gross tons, including two steamers of 21,000 tons each. The entire fleet will be used for the Indian mail, and freight service.

MY DEAR FRIEND:
Things are not as bad as they looked
at first. Of course, knowing that
you would be heartbroken if they had
been found to be as I thought they
were, I am hastening to write to you.
Young Mrs. Prescott, I learn, is
here with her mother and father see-

CHAPTER I
The Bummer.

MARK BRENDON, at thirty-five,
already stood high in the criminal investigation department of the police. He was indeed about to receive an inspectorship.
Mark was taking holiday on Dartmoor, devoting himself to his hobby of trout fishing and accepting the opportunity to survey his own life
from a bird's-eye point of view,
measure his achievement, and consider impartially his future, not only as a detective but as a man.
He found himself with five thousand pounds saved as a result of some special grants during the war
and a large honorarium from the French Government. He was also in possession of a handsome salary and the prospect of promotion, when a senior man retired at no distant date. Too intelligent to find all that life had to offer in his work alone,
he now began to think of culture,
of human pleasures, and those added
interests and responsibilities that a wife and family would offer.
He was somewhat overweighed after a strenuous year; but to Dartmoor
he always came for health and rest
when opportunity offered, and now
he had returned for the third time to the Duchy Hotel at Princetown.
Being a good talker he never failed
of an audience there. But better still he liked an hour sometimes with the prison wardens. For the convict prison that dominated that gray smudge in the heart of the moors known as Princetown held many interesting and famous criminals.

He had found an unknown spot where some good trout dwelt and on an evening in mid-June he set forth to tempt them. He had discovered certain deep pools in a disused quarry fed by a streamlet.
Foggorator Quarry, wherein lay
these preserves, might be approached in two ways. Originally broken into the granite bosom of the moor for stone to build the bygone war prison
of Princetown, a road still joined the main thoroughfare half a mile distant.

Brendon, however, came hither
by a direct path over the moors.
Leaving Princetown railway station
upon his left hand he set his face
west where the waste heaved out before him dark against a blaze of light from the sky.

Against the western flame appeared a figure carrying a basket.
Mark Brendon, with thoughts on the evening rod of the trout, lifted his face at a light footfall. Whereupon he passed by him the fair-woman he had never known. She was slim and not very tall. She wore no hat and the auburn of her hair, piled high above her forehead, tangled the warm sunset beams and burned like a halo round her head.
And she had blue eyes—blue as the gambian. Their size impressed Brendon.

Keary Testifies Morse Asked Him To "Forget" Tale

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 20.—Thomas Keary, former counsel of the United States Steamship Company, during testimony today at the trial of the defendant Harry F. Morse, one of the defendants, had approached him after adjournment of court yesterday with a request that he "forget" some of his testimony.

The witness said the testimony referred to by Morse related to an alleged bribe on a check stub which Keary has asserted Harry F. Morse corrected to $3,545.41 when the check had been for ten times that amount. No action was taken by the court in reference to the alleged interference with the witness.

Keary testified yesterday that at the request of Harry F. Morse, he had drawn a check for $37,545.11 in favor of C. W. Morse and Company, but that by an erasure the amount on the stub had been reduced to $3,754.51. Questioned by Attorney Newcomb, one of the defense attorneys, Keary admitted that although the change was made on the check book, the proper entry was made in the cash book and ledger. Asked by Rockwood to explain the object of making the change in the check book but not in the cash book and ledger, Keary said:

"Charles W. Morse, (one of the defendants and father of Harry F. Morse) would see the stub but he wouldn't see the ledger and the cash book. Harry Morse didn't want his father to know he had taken $37,500 out of the funds. He father frequently looked at the check book. Keary said the actual erasure was made by him at Harry Morse's direction. The money, he testified, was due Harry Morse for cash advances and for salary.

When Morse approached him in a corridor of the court house yesterday, Keary testified, he said he did not remember about the check transaction and asked questions about it. After being told the entry had been changed so his father wouldn't know, he had drawn $37,500 for his account, Keary testified. Morse wanted to know if I could forget that explanation."

"I told him I could not," declared Keary.

He testified, under cross examination that during the trial of Morse, he had told Morse that "the $27,000 was right," but that it was due him for salary, and advance he had made the company."

WAGE INCREASE WAS REFUSED

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
CHICAGO, June 20.—Continuing the fight against the Chicago Auditor's Association, which started several days ago when officials of the employers' association refused to grant wage increases to the employees, officials of the United Laborers' Conference Union held another meeting today.

When the father of Mrs. Bertha Hafer was ready to start from her late home, she, the undertaker, was informed that the funeral could not be held because the body of the corpse was being kept in the morgue. The funeral was delayed until another day, but was then held by a funeral home. The body was taken to the morgue and the funeral was held there. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased.

POVERTY FORCES WAR HERO'S WIDOW TO SELL HIS MEDALS

LADY COWANS WHO HAS BEEN FORCED BY POVERTY TO PUT UP THE MEDALS AN AWARDS (BELOW) WHICH HER HUSBAND, GENERAL SIR JOHN S. COWANS, WON DURING HIS LIFETIME.

BY MILTON BRONNER

(Special to The Bee)

LONDON, June 21.—Honored and idolized during his life, now almost completely forgotten in his death, General Sir John S. Cowans, national hero, is the central figure of a new tragedy of the war's aftermath.

It's the tragedy of a nation's ingratitude, and its victim is the general's widow Lady Cowans, who has been forced through dire poverty to sell the medals and awards which her husband won and put them up for sale.

Forty years ago John Cowans first joined the British army and when the World War broke out he was made quartermaster general of all the British forces.

When the war was over the general became ill. He had to go into debt to pay his doctors' bills for the war.

War had played havoc with his $40,000 estate.

A ray of hope came when awards for heroism were being handed out. Cowans was in line for something. But while others were made nobles and given huge money grants, Cowans was knighted.

He died a few months ago. There was a large military funeral kind words and then complete forgetfulness.

The widow struggled along for a while. But her circumstances became worse. She had little left other than the medals which her husband had won. So she put them up for sale for the money they might bring.

The premier offered Lady Cowans an extra pension from the civil list, amounting to $500 a year, to be paid quarterly. She immediately refused.

A number of influential men, deeming the nation ungrateful, are trying to make it too late. But Lady Cowans says it is too late.

Methodists Will Hold Conference On Prohibition

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., June 20.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., chairman of the Temperance and Social Service Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has called a public conference for the discussion of prohibition, race relations, law enforcement, Christian principles in industry, Sabbath observance and related topics. The conference will be held at Lake Junaluska, N. C., July 1-8.

The conference will be opened with a sermon by Bishop Cannon and the first two days will be devoted to addresses and round-table discussions of "the home, the family, the child," including divorce, juvenile delinquency, child welfare, social hygiene and character education. Dr. Gus W. Dyer, of Vanderbilt University and Dr. Hastings S. Hart, of the Russell Sage Foundation, will lead the discussions.

Two days also will be devoted to race problems, with ex-Governor A. H. Roberts of Tennessee, and the widow of Booker T. Washington as the principal speakers. Prohibition and law enforcement will be the last important topic of the conference. Bishop Cannon is scheduled for a leading part in the discussion of these questions and Prohibition Director Hayes will deliver an address.

The conference will end with addresses by Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, and Dr. S. C. Bland, of Toronto, Canada. Senator Glass will discuss "Christian America's obligation to the world," while Dr. Bland's subject will be "The Kingdom in the World."

STORM DISRUPTS POWER SERVICE

(By The Associated Press)

GREENVILLE, S. C., June 20.—Electric power service and communication were disrupted for an hour early tonight when half an inch of rain accompanied by an electrical storm fell within a short space of time. Reports from surrounding towns indicated that the storm was of a local nature.

The home of J. C. McDonald in Pointe Mill Village was struck by lightning during the storm, but eight persons seated on the porch escaped injury. The city fire department was summoned and its headquarters trucks made what officials term the most hazardous runs in their memory, the trucks traveling at high speed through a blinding rain and over flooded suburban streets. Unofficial estimates based on reports from rural communities place crop damage as negligible.

SEVERAL HURT WHEN CARS RAN WILD IN CROWD

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., June 20.—Several persons were injured late today when a street car ran wild during the rush hour in the downtown district, running at break-neck speed for a distance of several blocks before it was brought under control. The car was filled with passengers at the time, and many persons leaped from the speeding trolley and were injured when they were thrown to the pavement.

None of the passengers was believed to have suffered serious injury. Street railway officials said the motor had been out of order and that workmen had been engaged in an effort to repair it a few minutes before the car ran away. Passengers in the car said there was a vivid flash from the controller box, and the "speed of the car" increased rapidly. The motorman lost control and the car sped through the business district.

The presence of wind of a passenger on the rear platform is believed to have averted a more serious accident. The passenger smashed a window in the rear of the car and pulled the trolley from the overhead wire, cutting off the power.

GREENVILLE HAS TERRIFIC STORM

(By The Associated Press)

GREENVILLE, S. C., June 20.—A terrific electrical wind and rain storm is now sweeping over this section. Telephone, telegraph and power lines are badly affected though the extent of damage cannot yet be ascertained. City lights have been extinguished intermittently during the past hour.

With the increasing severity of the storm the city was plunged into darkness at 7:10. Street car traffic is at a standstill. Headquarters fire station has answered a call to the Polson mill village in the suburbs.

BANDITS ROB VA. BANK MESSENGER

(By The Associated Press)

WINCHESTER, Va., June 20.—Three bandits held up and robbed Carson Hook, a messenger employed by the Western Bank of Commerce, Va., near here late today, securing a small sum in change and checks. Hook, outwitted the bandits by secreting a cashier's check for a large amount in his shoe.

Three shots were fired by the bandits before the messenger, who was en route to this city, stopped his automobile and submitted. Two of the bullets were imbedded in the seat of Hook's automobile while another inflicted a slight flesh wound in his face.

The bandits escaped in an automobile. While the loss is said to be small, it was impossible tonight to ascertain the exact amount the robbers secured in the holdup.

America Should Have Tax-Free Rubber

Tires and economy in motor transportation are so intimately related that safeguarding the future of our rubber supply becomes a subject of vital national importance.

Forward-looking American tire manufacturers—the world's largest consumers of rubber—are already preparing to meet the situation, and in due time an ample supply of raw rubber will undoubtedly be available in districts free from burdensome taxes and restrictions.

Supplementing the commendable efforts now being put forth to provide the United States with tax-free rubber, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company of America, Inc., has already engaged a staff of experts for research in countries throughout the world where conditions may favor the growth of this indispensable commodity.

MT. ETNA, AGAIN IN ERUPTION, VIOLENT MANY TIMES

(Special to The Bee)

MT. ETNA, after three months of ominous threatening, again is in eruption. The map shows the location of the famous old volcano in Sicily, Italy. Thousands of persons are fleeing from their homes in the fertile valleys at the base of the slope and several cities, notably Catania and Giardini, are in danger of being buried in the deluge of molten lava. Giardini is reported in grave danger.

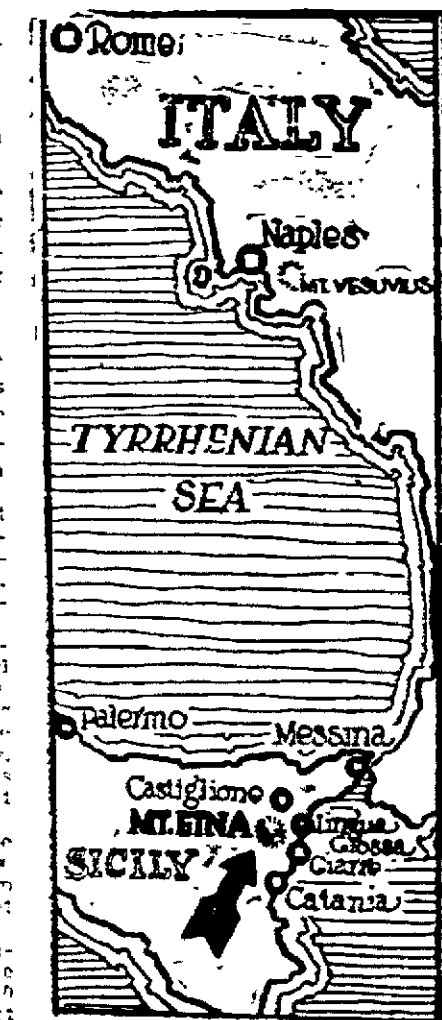

Probably the oldest, and surely the most colorful, of all volcanoes, is Etna. Scenes of horror like the one now being enacted in the fertile Sicilian valley, date back to the eighth century B. C.

Etna is located on the east coast of Sicily. Its summit is approximately 10,900 feet above the sea level. It is a conical mountain, the base of which is about 10 miles in diameter. The mountain is composed of lava, tephra, and cinders.

It was first mentioned in 1500, was reported to have been 10,900 feet in 1877. The mountain is about 450 square miles in area. The distance from the base to the summit is about 10 miles.

The mountain is a very active volcano. It has been in eruption for many years. The last eruption was in 1922. The mountain is a very active volcano. It has been in eruption for many years. The last eruption was in 1922.

Experts estimate Etna older even than Vesuvius. It takes about seven or eight hours to reach the top. Eruptions are recorded as far back as the eighth and fifth centuries B. C.

Catania was overwhelmed in 1169 and many other serious eruptions have taken place. These were in 1269, 1430, 1535, 1579, 1586, 1592 and March, 1910.

LONDON, June 20.—One of the oddest institutions in London is an auction mart where wild beasts, monkeys, reptiles and other animals and birds are sold for absurdly low prices.

Full-grown Rocky Mountain or Himalayan eagles can be bought for $3 each. There are many bargains in monkeys too, lively young mandrills bringing only $10, and little scoty Mangleys $7. Pure white Rhesus monkeys are in favor among society women and sell for $30. The animals are taken from their cages and held up on the auctioneer's rostrum where they timidly survey the noisy throngs bidding for their possession.

At a recent sale of animals which belonged to a disbanded American circus, a six-foot Florida alligator brought only $12. Two reticulated pythons, measuring 16 feet each, sold for $40 and $75 respectively, and a 15-foot Indian python realized $35. An 8-foot anaconda was bought for $25.

OPEN AS MOTOR-CAMPER

(Special to The Bee.)

THE up-to-date, gasoline-burning stove is a boon to the motorist who likes to cook by the wayside. It will cook anything that a house range will and at a surprisingly low cost. The fuel is always at hand—in the tank of the car. They are safe, dependable and inexpensive.

The gasoline-burning stove is fed by the gas generated by a spray of raw gasoline passing through a hot pipe. It is perfectly simple in operation and requires no further attention than filling its tank, pumping in a little air and heating the generator by lighting a little raw gas beneath it. In actual use it is most simple and highly satisfactory. With the addition of an oven, all sorts of baking and roasting can be done.

Wood Burners.
The wood-burning stove that is a set up affair much like a small kitchen range, is a very fine bit of equipment. These fold up flat and take up hardly any room when not set up. Of course, they will cook anything and usually wood is plentiful at any camping ground. These stoves possess something the gasoline stove does not, they give out heat so they are a mighty welcome thing on a cold day.

The open-air grate (wood burning) stove is so inexpensive and useful that no camper ought to be without one. Some are made open on all four sides and set up on four legs, with the grate perhaps 10 inches from the ground. Others, more elaborate, have three sides of sheet metal. These, of course, can be placed advantageously so as to work most efficiently in the wind. A folding oven usually comes with this type of semi-enclosed stove to permit of baking and roasting. A very small supply of wood will cook a meal on one of these excellent stoves. The grates are usually large enough to hold two good-size stew pans and a coffee pot.

Combination Used.
One wood-burning stove or grate and a gasoline stove make an outfit that leaves nothing to be desired. There are times when wood is hard to get or when the rain is so severe that it is difficult to build a fire. There are also times when gas might be short. So the two make a great team.

There are other kinds of stoves and cooking apparatus which are good. Those burning solidified alcohol have their place. There is also a portable tank which gives a fine, steady flame. But every auto-camper ought to carry at least one first-class cooking stove of some sort. The old method of building a fire in a fireplace of stones gathered in a field is a relic of the Indians and has no place in the catalog of the successful motor-camper.

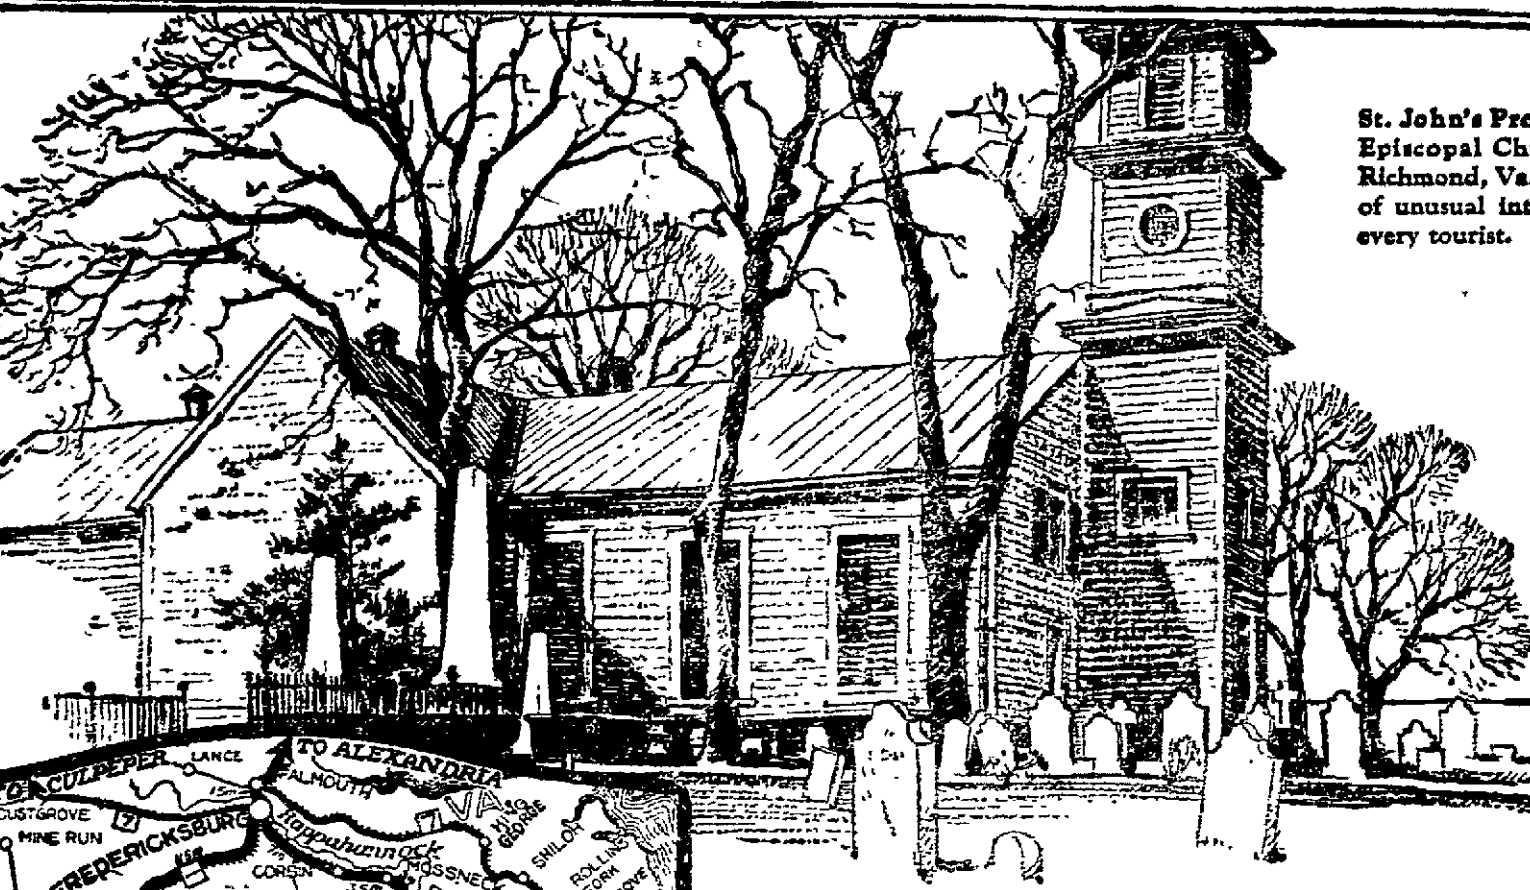

Shelters and trailers are discussed in the next article.

NEGRO TEACHER
IS GIVEN MEDAL(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Dr. Geo. Washington Carver of Tuskegee Institute, who developed 156 by-products of the peanut and 115 of the sweet potato has been awarded the Spingarn medal, which is given annually for the most distinguished achievements by an American citizen of African descent. This was announced by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The medal was awarded to Carver "in consideration of his services in agricultural chemistry, his recent recognition by a British Royal Society and for lecture on agriculture during the last year before white and colored audiences, particularly in the South, where his clear thought and straight forward attitude have greatly increased interracial respect."

OLD WALL STREET FIRM
SUCCUMBS TO PRESSURE
AND CLOSES ITS DOORS(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Caught in the maelstrom of rumors with which Wall Street has been seething for the last few days, the oldest and best known members of the New York Stock Exchange, was forced to close its doors today.

The crash, coming on the heels of an announcement by President Roosevelt of the Exchange yesterday, that an investigation had disclosed rumors of impending failures to be without foundation, caused a bad break in the market. More than 80 of the most popular shares, including the low records for the year, with losses of two to five points.

President Roosevelt said this afternoon declared he was ready to repeat his statement of yesterday, that the change officials knew of no member whose firm was in trouble.

Mr. Roosevelt said the business conducted by the exchange had been a success for many years. He said that the exchange had been a success for many years.

Danville Defeats Pointers In First Game 7 to 6

Gibson's Pitching Features Victory

Whiffs Dozen Men With the Aid of Land, His Battery Mate.

The outstanding feature of yesterday's game in which Danville defeated the Furniture Makers by the score of 7 to 6 was the pitching of Gibson, who fanned 12 men. Gibson's effectiveness was, in large part, due to the receiving of Grover Land, and hereby hangs a tale.

For good and sufficient reasons caught yesterday, although his physical condition did not warrant his taking part in the game. He injured his throwing arm several days ago and yesterday was hardly able to throw as far as the pitcher's box. Therefore the Pointers stole second base at will. But it is undeniably true that even with Land crippled he is worth a whole lot to the team behind the bat.

The scoring of the visitors was largely due to Land's weakness in throwing. Six stolen bases were made by High Point players and others would have been chalked up if Grover had made any attempt to catch the runners. These thefts put the visitors in position to score on several occasions. Two home runs also contributed to the scoring of the Furniture Makers. Irby secured one of these after having fanned out three times. Another "Pointer," McCulloch, also fanned three times.

Neither team scored until the fourth inning, when High Point made three runs on two hits and a walk. Kane was out at first. Thrasher singled and Tolbert was walked. Schmidt then parked the ball, three scoring.

In Danville's half of the same inning five runs were counted. Smith singled and Trexler doubled. Smith stopping at third. Murphy then doubled and Smith and Trexler scored. Regan doubled and Murphy scored. Regan was sacrificed to third by Quinn and scored on Land's single.

Gibson singled and Land went to second. Dorman hit to Kane who threw wild to second and all hands were safe. Overton's sacrifice fly scored Land.

CUBS SPOIL THE SILVER JUBILEE

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Mayor Hylan's silver jubilee celebration missed out on an added attraction today when a plan to exhibit two Central Park Zoo lion cubs at the Grand Central Palace went upon the rocks. Park Commissioner Gallatin and Miss Peggy Davis, motion picture actress, decided to take the cubs to the hall, and lugged the two months old kits to a small sedan automobile inside of which was a city chauffeur "at ease." He did not remain at ease long for shortly after the trip began, Miss Davis holding one lion on her lap and the other being seated between her and the commissioner's pandemonium ensued. The cubs began to claw and scratch, Miss Davis charge biting her on the nose and lacerating her hands, while the other picked a soft spot on the driver's neck and fastened himself there. The chauffeur becoming so flustered that he drove head on into a passing truck. Mr. Gallatin attempted to subdue the cubs and received several scratches. A hurry call to a nearby station brought several police to the rescue, first aid being administered, by Captain Brown and Lieut. Howard. The cubs didn't to the jubilee.

When The "Tiger" Grows

No wonder they call Dempsey the "tiger of the ring." Just see that mean look on his map. Here he is in a mix-up with Jack Burke, one of his sparring partners. Although much lighter than the champion, Burke wrestles him all over the ring, swapping punch for punch.

Winston Loses To Greensboro

GREENSBORO, June 20.—Greensboro pounded Ellington and LaCloustra hard in the early innings of today's game which enabled them to defeat Winston-Salem in the first of the series here by the score of 11 to 9. It was a slugfest for both sides, each manager sending in two pitchers. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of Shay for the locals and Anderson for the visitors. Shay landed safely five times in as many trips to the plate. Anderson got four out of five and all of them were for two bases. The visitors made five errors. The box score follows:

ALONG THE WAY TO THE BIG FIGHT

COACH LEADER PUTTING FINAL TOUCHES ON YALE OARSMEN

By WALTER CAMP.
(Copyright, 1923, By The Bee)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Coach Leader, in putting the final touches on the Yale crew today, is handling the question of over-confidence in the wisest possible way. He is giving his men the chance to think about it. He has taken up certain faults which are bound to creep in and has hammered at them daily so that his men have had no chance to settle back and say to themselves, "We've good enough to beat Harvard Friday."

Leader has strengthened out the Yale stroke somewhat just as Bob Herrick did with his Harvard crew which went to England between the time they left off rowing in American waters and the time they won at Henley.

The Yale coach has been working at both ends of the stroke and the only difficulty is that he may wish a little too much on his men in this respect at thereby steady the Blue boat.

Coach Miller of Harvard is trying for somewhat the same results but he has not yet succeeded in getting the speed out of the crimson boat which out to come from the physiques of his men.

Yale partisans should realize that the Harvard eight is a powerful one and if they get together—as seems more likely now than a week ago—they will make their boat travel fast and have the stamina to last out.

Yale will have no cinch in rowing these men down but the Blue crew should win because of its greater steadiness, the smoother traveling of its shell and the saving in effort in getting its oars into out of the water.

Yale Pronounced: Favorite Friday In Harvard Race

By LAWRENCE PERRY.
(Copyright, 1923, By The Bee)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Yale is a pronounced favorite over Harvard in the annual Thames regatta which will be rowed late Friday afternoon. This tourney is based not so much upon the coaching methods that have been employed at New Haven and Cambridge—always a subtle and not generally understood matter—but upon the showing which the crimson and the Blue have made in their preliminary regattas.

Harvard has not won a race, having been beaten by the Navy, Princeton and Cornell, whereas Yale has shown her wake to Princeton, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Columbia. Results are the things that count in the popular mind and the success of the Blue, bearing in mind Harvard's failures, have raised odds on the Blue to top heavy figures.

But aside from victories and defeats the element that counts heavily in any reckoning of the chances of rival crews is the respective coaching systems. In this respect it would appear that Edward Leader, successful coach at the University of Washington, who was brought to Yale last winter, has shown the more enlightened policy. He has given the Elis a shower body swing, a hardy leg thrust and in brief has taught them a bit up a sharp racing stroke without sacrifice of rhythm or blade work, and there is nothing punishing about the style he has taught.

Of course the changes Leader has made stand out more sharply than would have been the case had not Yale been committed to the English method of swinging sweeps—accentuated body swing, diminished leg drive and all the mechanical details that go with it such as "tag" seats, narrow oar blades, Thole pins and short slides. A lot of things were jettisoned when Leader went to New Haven out of the far west.

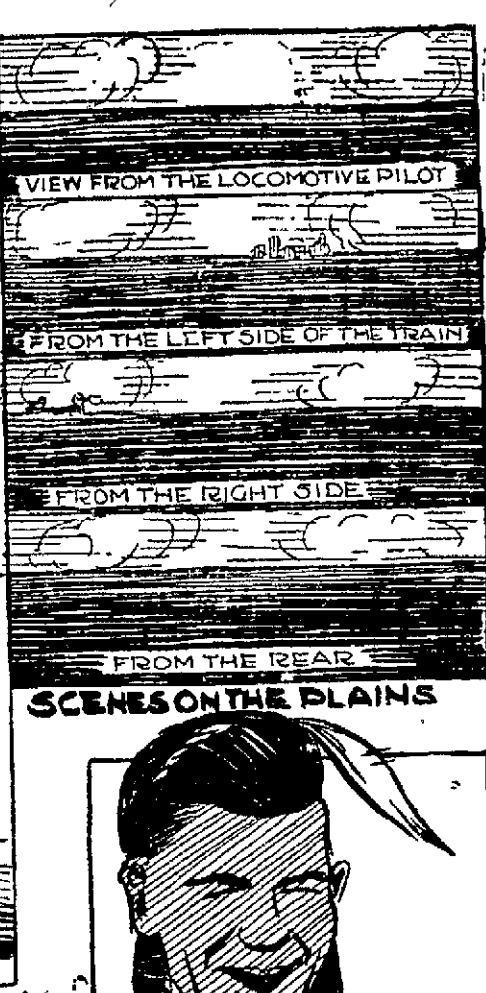

As for Harvard, Coach Miller, who succeeded William Hanes, had less chance to do so far methods of swinging sweeps were concerned. In fact, to the extent that one may judge from Harvard's races thus far, he has made no changes of any material nature. After the Cornell race, however, he did juggle with his seating assignments. The men are big and Harvard rowing men of past vintage who have looked over the right since it has been at Red Top believe that it may be regarded as a good—not a great—Harvard crew.

Crews of the Crimson and Blue have been meeting each other annually since 1852 with breaks in sequence caused by the various wars in which we have engaged since that time and a little war between Harvard and Yale in 1835 and 1846. In 1878 the two universities selected the Thames River at New London as the scene of their dual aquatic struggle and it is upon this placid stream and its opulent banks that the great mass of rowing tradition has been developed.

Yale has won 23 events, Harvard 27 and the Crimson has not defeated the Blue since 1920.

OLD TERRAPIN CAUGHT.
(By The Associated Press)
ONECO, Conn., June 20.—A pre-civil war terrapin, still on his feet and going strong, was added to the list of New England freak stories today when two Jericho lads, Cloris Beaudette and Laurence McManus overtook the reptile on the street. Initially on his shell was the date "1855" and the letters "W. B. P." The seventy-one year old traveler was sent away, perhaps on another century-long journey after the boys had decorated his shell with their own initials and "1923."

JOIE RAY AGAIN FAILS TO BREAK THE RECORD
CAMBRIDGE, MASS., June 20.—Joie Ray today failed in his second attempt this month to break the world's record for the mile at the Harvard Stadium. The Illinois speedsters' time was four minutes 15 1-5 seconds as compared with the record of 4 minutes 12 3-5 seconds. He won the race over three Harvard runners to whom he conceded handicaps up to 150 yards.

DEMPSEY SHOWS FORM IN LATEST WORK AT CAMP

By HARRY NEWMAN.
(By Chicago Tribune Service)
GREAT FALLS, Mont., June 20.—With a large delegation of railroad and financial giants looking on, Jack Dempsey did his "puriest" at his training camp this afternoon. It was a genuine reversal of form that the champion introduced for the benefit of the magnates and the way he slugged his sparring mates around with caution. The railroad men were returning from a trip to the National Glacier Park and decided to take a peek at Dempsey and Gibbons. They gave Tom the up and down at Shelby the other day and reported that the St. Paul battler was in great shape. They had the same opinion of Mr. Dempsey when he finished doing his stuff for their benefit this afternoon.

A cold rain made it necessary to work indoors. The ring is pitched in an old dance hall on the site of an old brewery where the good old mauling used to pour freely before Mr. Volstead and his gang got to spilling the works.

The champion had one of his best days and he surely looked a champion. He's a tough bird to fathom. One day like the champion that he is and the next not so good.

The party of railroad men and financiers was headed by William P. Kenny, vice-president of the Great Northern Railroad and included Chas. Galloway, vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio, James Murray, assistant to the president of the Baltimore and Ohio, Harry Graham, of the Pressed Steel Car Co., Edward Smith, financier from New York; F. A. Borden, vice-president of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, of Pittsburgh; John Nessel, of the New York Central; Pat Joyce, of the Illinois Central; Jack Dillon, of New York; Will Dickey, of Baltimore, and others.

Just as likely as not the champion decided to "show off" with such a mob of big guns. He stepped out right smart-like and made the small bag sing with the pasting he gave it. It was a treat to watch Jack this afternoon. For many days he has been a disappointment to his closest admirers but today he just unlimbered and never showed to better advantage.

Billy Wells, fast-stepping young English welter, was the first in there with the champion today. They went through two of the fastest rounds indulged in by Dempsey since he opened his training stunts. In ducking and evading wallops sent in his direction by Wells, Dempsey worked like a real artist. Wells kept trying with right-hand leads for the champion's head, but old Jack was inside or away from every lead.

Leviathan Sure To Be Smoothest Vessel On Ocean

(By The Associated Press)

ITHAN, June 20.—The Leviathan "is sure to be the smoothest thing afloat."

It was declared tonight by Captain Herbert Hartley after the big liner had been steaming along on her trial trip to West Indian waters for more than 24 hours.

Despite a heavy fog that kept the skipper on the bridge for eight hours last night he said the ship was as "perfect as if she had been running 20 years." Captain Hartley said last night's fog was so heavy he could see but one of the vessels in the fog.

Funnel and mast were the two landmarks and was the thickest and heaviest he had ever encountered.

Speed has been increased every 10 hours. The ship started out conservatively 19 knots an hour, but tonight was sliding through the water at the rate of 22 knots. Tests have been made on many pieces of its machinery and thus far all were reported to have been satisfactory.

Captain Hartley, interviewed by newspaper men aboard the Leviathan, has answered all questions frankly. Tonight he disclosed the fact that the ship has an uninvited mascot in the form of a black cat which turned up on deck today. The creature shipped by the quartermaster after the Leviathan sailed from Boston and was twice put off by the superstitious sailors. Casting superstition to the seabreeze, the crew has named the cat "Levi" (the doughboy's name for the Leviathan) and it has been accepted as a good omen.

Asked whether any more "stow-aways" were aboard, Captain Hartley said he figured there were "about 500." This reference to the guests invited by Chairman Landon of the Shipping Board brought laughter from the captain's listeners. Captain Hartley exchanged greetings today by wireless with the chief officer of the Mauretania, but he evaded answers to a question as to whether he had challenged her skipper to a speed contest. He smiled at a suggestion that he was after bigger game.

The guests have voiced high praise for the spirit of the officers and crew and their apparent pride in the reconditioned American ship. It was pointed out that one third of the crew, including stewards, is made up of American-born citizens. Another third is composed of naturalized citizens while the final third possesses first naturalization papers.

Captain Hartley said he expected to pass Cape Hatteras some time tonight. The sea was smooth as glass.

ONE MAN IS KILLED IN A PITCHERS BATTLE

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

BUENOS AIRES, June 20.—One man was killed and eighteen wounded, several probably fatally, as a result of a pitched battle this afternoon between communists and police, who had orders to prevent a public manifestation in one of the city's parks in protest against the murder of Kurt Wilkens a few days ago. It had previously been announced that the general strike would terminate tonight. It is expected that it will likely now be continued.

When the police prevented any gathering in the park a crowd of communists went to the bankers union headquarters and shooting started when the police attempted to oust them. Several police were among those wounded.

U. S. Girl to Wed Egyptian Prince.

Miss Pearl Ginsberg of New York is on her way to Egypt where she is going to marry Prince Mohammed Ali Ibrahim, famous "sporting prince" who visited the U. S. last year. While he was here spending six weeks and $60,000 of his $200,000 income, the prince said he would rather be shot than married. But he evidently changed his mind, for dispatches say he now declares he'll marry Miss Ginsberg whether King Fuad of Egypt consents or not.

Descendant Of Washington.

Mrs. George Washington of Cedar Hill, near Nashville, Tenn., has been elected president of the Tennessee Federation of Women's Clubs. Her husband claims direct kinship with the famous American general and first president whose name he bears.

Waiter, Bring On That Lobster

CHINESE CANNOT BE UNDERSTOOD

(By Chicago Tribune Service)

NEW YORK, June 20.—The veil which hangs before the eyes of American investigators because they cannot adequately understand foreign languages will utterly prevent the true story of the "murder ship" Mary Beatrice from being revealed.

The thirteen Chinamen who survived that disastrous smuggling voyage, which cost the life of five of their countrymen, two negroes and two white men, were given a hearing before the immigration inspectors on Ellis Island today.

The best interpreters that could be found were brought there, but even with their aid, no connected story of the tremendous fight that was waged on the little vessel could be learned.

Only the bare details of the story—the reiterated statement that there had been a general fight in which nine men had gone down—could be understood from the chattering orientals.

DUCHESS GLADLY DOUBLES HER GIFT

(By Chicago Tribune Service)

LONDON, June 20.—The Brighter Britain Movement, which aims to popularize rural life, is attracting interested attention here, and one reason is that it has turned away from the time honored English practice of having women of title on its list of patronesses.

A certain duchess was asked for a subscription. Languidly she answered: "You may put me down for 100 guineas and you may add my name to your list of patronesses." The efficient young woman solicitor replied that they would gladly take her guineas, but that there were no patronesses, so that aspect of her contribution must be ignored.

The duchess at first amazed by this unexpected frankness was not slow to see the possibility presented to become she doubled her contribution, and said for a moment, her own press agent. So listed as a patroness.

Women run this movement, peeresses and working women taking part. It is affiliated with the National Federation of Women's Institutes. Cooperation is the keynote. Everybody. Snobbishness, the bane of rural life in this old land, is the one failing for which there is no forgiveness.

The members meet regularly at their institutes on terms of absolute equality and good fellowship. They teach one another useful handicrafts, especially the domestic arts, discuss the problems of the day, and brighten and stimulate the communal life with folk songs and dances and dramatic performances. They are out to banish from the villages the deadly dullness which most people who have lived in them say makes existence intolerable.

The movement really started in Canada, which perhaps accounts for the spirit of independence and self-help which has always animated it.

RECENT FLOODS IN KANSAS

DAMAGE WHEAT 50 PER CENT.

KANSAS CITY, June 20.—The recent floods in Kansas damaged wheat in the lowlands fifty per cent, according to a report today by the Kansas State Board of Agriculture.

Rust has developed rapidly in other sections as a result of the wet weather. With the exception of a part of western Kansas, the oats crop is better than was expected a fortnight ago. Corn is badly in need of attention but the rains have kept farmers out of the fields. Wheat cutting has begun in the South and South central part of the state.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—The Philadelphia Housing Association reported today that the house shortage here was acute. But 6.74 per cent. out of every 1,000 houses canvassed by the association are vacant and inspection of these shows that few of them are available for renting. Practically no vacancies exist in the Kensington, Tacony, Brewerytown, Manayunk and Germantown factory sections.

Women Have Been Involved In Many Poison Mysteries

By MAURICE HENLE

(Special to The Bee)

LANSING, Mich., June 21.—Two unusual crime stories at present are holding the country's attention. One is in New Jersey. The other in Michigan. Both are alike in that the accused is alleged to have poisoned the victim for insurance money.

And these two cases recall, not alone the famous Bluebeard fable, which in itself must have been founded on fact, but other mysteries of real life as well.

The actions of modern poison suspects recall the historic reference to the strange family named Borgia, which lived in Italy in the 15th and 16th centuries. Nothing definite is known of actual crimes committed by this uncanny group of alleged murderers, but history hands us down a colorful page in the annals of crime referring to their activities.

The history of crime in America is replete with tragedies of the Bluebeard hue. Poisoning of the victims for money apparently is as old as insurance companies themselves.

The two current crimes, which have not as yet been solved, are: Here in Lansing, Mich., where Mrs. Emma Koppke, 38, is accused of killing by slow poison Harry Brill Koppke, her foster-son, 12. An insurance policy of $1200 in Mrs. Koppke's favor had been taken on the life of the boy shortly before his death.

In New York, N. Y., John Creighton and his wife Mary, are alleged by police to have poisoned Mrs. Creighton's brother, Charles R. Avery. Police say a $1000 life insurance policy on Avery was made out to his sister, one of the accused.

And these two parallel mysteries recall other sensational cases: CHICAGO—Mrs. Tillie Kilmek and her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Koulik, were charged with poisoning 12 persons. Mrs. Kilmek was given a life sentence, and Mrs. Koulik is awaiting a second trial. The Koulik having disagreed.

TWIN FALLS, IDA.—Mrs. Lydia Southard was sentenced to life imprisonment for poisoning her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer.

WHITE CLOUD, MICH.—Mrs. Meda Hodell, 20, was given a life sentence for the poisoning of her invalid father-in-law, Dan Hodell. Others in the family were involved.

NEW YORK—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, dentist, who was executed at Sing Sing prison in May, 1917, for the poisoning of his parents-in-law, John E. Peck and wife.

The other mysterious poison case is that involving the famous Indiana "murder farm." A series of murders were said to have been committed on a farm occupied by Mrs. Belle Guinness, who was thought to have been homesteading in Nevada. No one has been convicted as yet, nor has Mrs. Guinness been apprehended.

But none has so startled the country as the Koppke case.

Police strengthen their prosecution against her as she awaits trial, deified into her past, and claim to have uncovered eight other mysterious deaths in her home in the past 15 years.

The story runs that Mrs. Koppke came to Lansing from Deckerville, Mich., about 10 years ago. She became acquainted with the boy's parents, and eventually took him into payment for a debt which the parents owed her.

Huddled in a cell at Mason, Mich., county seat, Mrs. Koppke denies her guilt and fastens the burden of the crime on a former boarder, who has been jointly charged with murder also.

The other deaths police claim to have unearthed were all of small children which to criminologists brings up the question: "Why will people poison others for money? What is there lacking in the make-up of a human being who would so recklessly disregard human life?"

Psychologists believe if they can determine the underlying mental disease—for that is what they call it—much suffering in the world can be avoided in the future, and sensational Bluebeard cases will be relegated into the limbo of lost crimes.

Perhaps you can define a reason for this sordid atavistic curbsack which curdles the human heart into a base scavenger sunk to the utter depths of depravity.
